CHARGE UNLAWFUL USE OF FIRECRACKERS

Bernard T. Brennan, aged about 25 years, will face a peculiar charge in district court on July 9 when he will be called to answer a complaint charging him with the unlawful use of firecrackers. He was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Officer Thomas McGreevey at the corner of Merrimack and Dutton streets, where he is alleged to have annoyed pedestrians by throwing firecrackers from the car in which he was riding. He was arraigned on the charge this morning, and on a plea of not guilty, the case was continued until July 9.

Mississippi and Oklahoma Go For McAdoo on 34th Ballot--Smith and Davis Lose Ground

FIRST CHANGE IN COLORADO

On First Ballot Today McAdoo Lost One to John W. Davis

Mississippi and Oklahoma Flop Back to McAdoo on the 34th Ballot

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 2.—As the contending forces wheeled into position to renew the struggles at today's session of the democratic national convention there were strong indications that the Smith and McAdoo people were preparing for the utmost exertions. Overnight, McAdoo scouts had been making heroic efforts to bring back Mississippi and Missouri, planning on the psychological effect to win them new accretions.

The first change today came in Colorado, where McAdoo lost one to John W. Davis.

Massachusetts made no overnight change and Maryland's 16 were still holding good for Ritchie.

North Carolina took back the single vote it had been giving to Smith and added it to McAdoo.

Vote For Col. Gaston

While the call for the 33rd ballot was going on William Jennings Bryan had a whispered conference on the platform with Chairman Walsh.

In Massachusetts on the 33rd ballot, William A. Gaston got a half vote from the Smith collection. McAdoo's was unchanged.

On the 34th ballot for Colorado, McAdoo lost one; Smith gained a half vote. While the balloting was going on there were things doing in the Mississippi delegation. The Davis people were holding it for the West Virginians.

COOLIDGE SEEKS FACTS ON GERMANY

WASHINGTON, July 2.—First hand information on conditions in Germany particularly as bearing on the situation with respect to the Dawes report, was undertaken to have been sought by President Coolidge in arranging a conference today with Alanson B. Houghton, American ambassador at Berlin.

On arriving in New York yesterday Ambassador Houghton was quoted as saying he considered Germany had done everything asked of her under the Dawes plan and that he hoped she would accept it.

Mr. Houghton is said to have postponed a previously planned date of departure for the United States for several weeks in order that he might continue his observation of developments in Germany during that time.

Interest of the administration in German conditions has been made clear by its repeated expressions of hope that the Dawes plan would be accepted as a starting point for a solution of the reparations problems.

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

As results of a recent raid by federal enforcement agents at a Salisbury beach hotel, Antonio Barber, 320 Lawrence street, Lawrence, and Salvatore Longo, 31 Merrimack street, Methuen, were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh today charged with violations of the prohibition laws. Both waived preliminary hearings and were held in bonds of $500 for the federal court at Boston.

Barber is charged with the illegal possession of a quantity of beer and whiskey, seized in the raid by Agent Walter H. Sullivan and Longo is charged with illegal sale at the hotel in question.

Stephen Noone, Lawrence, charged with illegal sale on June 27 at 110 Essex street, also waived examination and was held in $500 for the federal court.

The case of Philip Cohen of Lowell, charged with illegal transportation, which had been before the commissioner several times on points of law, was settled today when Commissioner Walsh found probable cause against the defendant and ordered him held for the federal court.

Two or three Haverhill cases were on for hearing, the first being that of Frank Darmofal, charged with illegal possession. He was represented by Attorney Franklin Priest of Haverhill, who argued an alleged invalidity of the state search warrant and raised the question of improper procedure under it. After long argument on points of law between Mr. Priest and Asst. Dist. Atty. William J. White, Jr., the commissioner reserved his decision until a later hour. Transcontinental Service inaugurated With Success—Planes on Final Stretches

CHICAGO, July 2.—(By the Associated Press.) On the final stretches of the maiden flight of the day and night coast-to-coast air mail service, speeding airplanes early today were roaring towards the Golden Gate and Long Island with all conditions favoring their arrival even before the scheduled time.

The 800 mile long lane of beacon light between Chicago and Cheyenne, safely traversed, two roaring couriers at dawn were winging west across Wyoming bearing 500 pounds of mail, comprising 23,600 letters, from New York for San Francisco and towards the rising sun above the prairies and dunes of Illinois, another ship sped with 375 pounds of postal cargo from the Pacific coast for New York.

Between Omaha and North Platte, Neb., high in the air above the illuminated route, the ships passed each other early today.

Prevailing winds favored the east-bound travelers, who are due to complete the transcontinental trip in 32 hours and 5 minutes at 6.05 p. m., eastern standard time, while 34 hours and 45 minutes of flying is expected to put the west-bound planes in San Francisco at 5.45 p. m., Pacific time, today.

WOULD USE JAIL YARD FOR AUTO PARKING

Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department today communicated with County Commissioner Erson B. Barlow recommending that the yard of the unused county jail be thrown open for free parking on July 4 as a means of affording relief to the usual traffic congestion at that date at South common.

Superintendent of Police Thomas R. Atkinson and Traffic Sergeant Edward Connors have endorsed the recommendation of the park head that the yard be opened. Mr. Barlow expressed himself as favorably inclined and promised to get in touch with the other two members of the commission.

S. Wales Dixon of the American Playgrounds association, for 15 years superintendent of parks at Hartford, Conn., this noon advised Supt. Kernan by letter of his willingness to accept an invitation to speak here next Monday on playground work before the conference of playground instructors to take place on that day.

The chief of police of Akasaka, the section of Tokio in which are situated the embassy grounds, where the embassy staff before the earthquake of Sept. 1, has resigned.

The opposition parties in the diet have announced that they will not use the flag incident politically to embarrass the government owing to the gravity of the affair.

Leading publicists, including those usually jingoistic, deplore the incident and denounce its stupidity.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
 "No Mother to Guide Her," a heart story put on the screen by William Fox, under the direction of Charles Moran, opens its engagement tomorrow for the rest of the week at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is an adaptation of the stage play by Lillian Mortimer. The plot deals with two young girls; one, the daughter of wealthy parents, surrounded by everything that love and money can give her; the other, motherless and left to the care of a brutal stepfather. The author has followed the fortunes of these two girls from their childhood, and has woven a strong and human series of events about their lives. Genevieve Tobin, as Mary Boyd, is a splendid selection for the part. She has youth, beauty and real dramatic ability. Dolores Rousse, the Kathleen Pearson, fits the character to perfection. Other important members of the cast are Lolita Robertson, Frank Wunderlee, Jack Richardson, Maude Hill and J. D. Walsh.

"Souls in Bondage" is a Sanford Special. It is a picture with an appeal that reaches almost to universal following. It is based upon an ideal that this moment is pulsing around the world. "The Power of Faith" whether it be by the teachings of the creed of any church, the principle of right thinking or the bowing of the head and the bending of the knee of the savage in the wilderness. In exploiting this picture, its creators have reached to heights of effect which place it in its own class, alone among many other photoplays dealing with similar themes. Its high-powered cast includes Pat O'Malley, Cleo Madison, Otto Lederer, Frank Hayes, Gene Crosby, Peter Howard, Eugene Gilbey and Leo Arligue—truly an all-star aggregation. In your soul in bondage?

These two films form the nucleus of a real evening's entertainment. Remember that with tomorrow's performance the prices of all seats at this popular playhouse will be reduced by the amount of the war tax, which becomes inoperative by act of congress.

RIALTO THEATRE

Whom among your feminine acquaintances would you call an average woman? What is an average woman? How does she differ from any other type? All these questions are answered in the screen version of Earl Derr Biggar's Saturday Evening Post story, "The Average Woman," which opens at the Rialto Thursday.

It is said that the average woman will powder her nose in public; is afraid of mice; has the right to change her mind as often as she pleases; will always buy anything that's marked down; and ever so many things. But "The Average Woman" in this picture will hand you a surprise.

The cast in this film play includes Harrison Ford, Pauline Garron and David Powell.

The added feature on the program presents the famous western favorite, Jack Hoxie, in "The Desert Bridegroom," an unusual picture of the west with Hoxie in a typical Hoxie role. The eighth round of "Fighting Blood" and a Fox News are included in the program.

In accordance with the new law enacted by congress at the last session, the Rialto management announces that they are eliminating the two odd pennies from the evening prices. On and after July 3, the prices will be as follows: matinee, all seats for everybody, 10c; evenings, adults, 20 cents and children, 10 cents. In fact, children will be admitted to any performance, Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays for 10 cents.

FELT AND LEATHER

Felt and leather are being combined in millinery, crowns of felt being joined to leather brims, or cut-out effects of felt showing the leather beneath are popular.

TIGER WOMAN WITH SELLS-FLOTO

When Jack Dempsey revisited Sells-Floto circus last (he was featured with the show for seven weeks after he won the championship in 1919) he slipped into the life of the troupe with ease, even occupying his old stateroom on Manager Zack Terrell's private car. But it remained for Zena Zarro, young woman trainer of Royal Bengal tigers, to show him something different from the old days.

Zena, who will be seen battling hand to claw with 18 striped killers, when Sells-Floto comes to the Fair Grounds, Lowell, July 7, picked the heavyweight champion from the ground and tossed him astride her shoulders without hardly any effort. "I wrestle 400-pound tigers all day, so why should I not handle a 190-pound fighter, even if he is the world's champion?" she said. The picture shows that Jack enjoyed the experience. Dempsey is a favorite with the 11 hundred people who Sells-Floto, and he is still considered a big top trouper by all of them.

LOWELL EAGLES HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Lowell Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, met last night in regular business session in Eagles hall, Harrington building, with Worthy President Thomas Quinn in the chair. A committee was named to arrange for a testimonial to Grand Trustee Thomas R. Murphy, who retires from office in August. The members voted to attend a joint outing with the Lawrence, Haverhill and Derry, N. H. lodges in September. A large amount of routine business was transacted and at the close of the meeting, Brother Daniel H. Sullivan of Dorchester gave an interesting talk on the order.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Salary Increase for High School Band Instructor—
 Election of Teachers

John J. Giblin, high school band instructor, was voted a salary increase of $250 a year, making his total salary $1000, by the school committee last evening. The increase was brought about by a motion inroduced by Mr. Delaney and after Headmaster Harris of the high school, when asked for his opinion on the increase, had complimented Mr. Giblin highly. John Shields, janitor of the Bartlett school, was elected head janitor, subject to the approval of the city service commission, this being four in favor, two opposed and one not voting.

The meeting was called for the purpose of electing teachers and, after the routine elections had been held, Miss Bawita Lawler was chosen for the position in the physical training department of the high school left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Myrtle Rooney Mahoney. Five kindergarten teachers were also elected, this number being necessary owing to the resignation of three regular teachers, the refusal of one elected last year to serve, and the opening of an additional room in one of the larger schools.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock with all members present.

On recommendation of Supt. Molloy, Miss Helen King was elected teacher of cooking in the playground school. Mr. Delaney moved that Mrs. Josephine V. Grant, Paul Sullivan and Miss Katherine V. Hennessey be included in the list of teachers elected for the third time. His motion carried, only Mr. Cameron voting in the negative.

Supt. Molloy recommended the elec-

FIFTH SESSION OF BALLOTING

No Indication of Break as Delegates Met Today to Begin 31st Ballot

McAdoo, Smith and Davis
Hold Leading Positions—
Ralston as Compromise

NEW YORK, July 2.—The democratic national convention today went into its fifth session of balloting for a presidential nominee with no definite indication of a break in the deadlock between William G. McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith.

Called at 10:30 a. m. eastern daylight time, to begin the 31st roll call, the delegates were still divided among 13 candidates, a record field for this stage of a national convention race. McAdoo and Smith were, as before, in the lead, with John W. Davis well up in third place, out of the dark horse division, and Senator Ralston of Indiana, although sixth in the voting on the 30th ballot, a much discussed contender. James M. Cox of Ohio, ranked fourth place, and Senator Underwood of Alabama held the fifth.

The managers of all the leading contenders continued to express confidence after the 30th ballot, and kept on working into the early hours. What happened at their little conferences remained to be seen in today's events.

McAdoo Drops to 415%

Of the leaders, McAdoo was the only one to show a declining tendency through the 15 ballots yesterday, while Davis displayed the greatest accretion of strength. The McAdoo workers, however, predicted victory today, and David L. Rockwell, manager of the Californian's campaign, insisted "our lines are holding and we have assurances from our delegations that they will stick to the finish."

McAdoo, who received 431 votes on the 15th, dropped below his starting point last night on the 26th, when his count declined to 415%, and ended the night with the same total.

Smith Increases Vote

Smith, meanwhile, maintained his advance, netting 15 votes on the day which was $3 more than he had in the beginning, and George Brennan of Illinois, one of his leading supporters, while making a round of "walks" after midnight, predicted he would reach 400 during the early balloting today.

Davis Doubles Vote

The Davis gain represented another 100 per cent climb. Starting with 43 on the 16th ballot, he ended with 126%, as compared with the preceding day's progress from 31 to 61.

The Ralston talk gained much momentum when the Davis drift set William J. Bryan to work in active opposition to the West Virginian.

Friends of the Indiana senator, who wound up with 33 votes, a gain of two for the day, and three altogether, were content that Bryan's second choice inclination lay in their direction, despite his continued adherence to the McAdoo camp.

Three Favorite Sons Dropped

The Davis boosters, however, admitted no chink in the Bryan fight against their man.

Only three favorite sons were shaken completely out of the balloting and one—Senator Owen of Oklahoma—was added to the list. Governor Brown of New Hampshire, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, were dropped by their respective delegations on the 16th ballot, and Governor Bryan let go the Nebraska vote on the 21st. All of the Kansas votes, meanwhile, turned to McAdoo, but Gov. Jonathan M. Davis of that state continued to receive several undecided votes from Illinois and Pennsylvania delegates.

The McAdoo losses yesterday came chiefly from the switches of the Missouri and Oklahoma units, and his workers, although plainly concerned, said they were sure these blocks, which went respectively to Davis and Underwood, would return to their column upon failing to find another candidate capable of commanding the necessary two-thirds majority.

New Deadline Indicated

Despite rumblings of dissent in various McAdoo delegations last night, the late balloting found him holding firm to more than a third of the total votes, with the Smith forces yet to reach that point.

Second choice gossip increased unsteadily as balloting proceeded, but neither of the contending camps joined in, leaders of both campaigns insisting no reason existed for them even to think about throwing their support to dark horses. Davis and Gov. Ritchie of Maryland were discussed as the logical heirs of the Smith strength if he should release his delegates, and Ralston sponsors claimed most of the second choice sentiment among the delegates favoring McAdoo, and there was evidence of Underwood strength yet to develop. This situation, in the opinion of some, indicated the possibility of a new deadlock in event of retirement by the two leaders.

Session Opens at 11 o'clock

Thomas Taggart, Senator Ralston's booster, said he expected to see McAdoo and Smith making gains all through the day session, with transfers of votes back and forth, but he expected no result from it.

"There will be upsurging and sparring but no decision," said Taggart.

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO BUY BAY STATE VOTE

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 2.—The democratic convention has developed a new type of politician—the political vamp. You will find her on the platform reviving the faded spirits of the tired politician, lending inspiration to the delegation on the floor, and "presiding" over the campaign headquarters of presidential candidates.

Which is as it should be. It is woman's place to brighten the corner wherever she is. But, rumor has it that some of the dear ladies are more zealous for candidate than party and that they have been whispering in the ears of certain delegates who have found the cost of conventions too high and are leaving for home "broke," that this need not be.

Yesterday, as the balloting was resumed this rumor became so persistent, that the writer went down on the floor to try to "nail" it.

He went straight to the Massachusetts women delegates, knowing that "house folks" will always tell the unvarnished truth.

"Has anybody been around this way inquiring how funds are holding out in the Massachusetts delegation?" he asked point blank.

One woman replied: "Yes, we have been approached by McAdoo supporters—not only here, but before we left Boston. Assistance of all kinds was offered us. But we aren't asking for anything but honesty. No money can buy Massachusetts. We are not short of funds. But even if we were, it is Smith, regardless of cost."

"We have come with the avowed intention of nominating him, and he is the only man on our minds. No one else is of any interest."

Other women in the delegation substantiated the report.

As things look now, however, women may control the situation yet if the convention lasts much longer. Each day shows a falling off in the men delegates who have gone home and an increase in the women alternates who have slipped into their seats on the floor. In the endurance test the weaker sex wins. The men are the restless creatures who roam up and down the aisle, but the women sit still.

The Massachusetts women plan to hold a meeting in the Belmont before they leave New York to review the happenings of the convention and appoint a woman as leader in campaign work this summer.

CONVENTION NOTES

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dissatisfaction with the law enforcement plank in both the republican and democratic platforms, is expressed in a statement issued today by the United Committee for Dry Platforms, of which Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., is chairman.

"There is little choice between the enforcement resolutions adopted by the republican and democratic conventions," the statement said. "Neither one is what we asked for or can be satisfactory to the prohibition constituencies which the united committee represent. We advocated a plank explicitly committing the next administration to the maintenance and enforcement of the 18th amendment."

Mrs. Carroll Miller of Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania district delegate who received half a vote for the democratic presidential nomination from Massachusetts on one of yesterday's ballots, knows what she would do if she should become president.

"If I were president, I would do two things," said Mrs. Miller, who is the wife of a Pittsburgh consulting engineer and the mother of four sons. "I would have the United States enter the League of Nations and I would urge reduction in the tariff to all the farmers."

GOV. BROWN WAS BIG LEAGUE BALLPLAYER

NEW YORK, July 2.—Few candidates mentioned for the democratic presidential nomination, have the romantic color that surrounds Governor Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire.

Not until the fifth day of the convention was the name of Brown mentioned.

Chairman Walsh began gaveling for order. It was quickly secured and prayer was offered by Rabbi Newman of Temple Israel, New York.

WITH AN EYE TO THE WOMEN

BAKER IN SPOTLIGHT AS HE NAMES COX

Newton D. Baker as he placed James M. Cox of Ohio in nomination as the democratic candidate for president. Baker received the most spontaneous ovation accorded to any individual who has appeared on the speaker's stand in Madison Square Garden. On that premise many are predicting that Baker will be the compromise nominee. Seen on the stand is Senator Thomas J. Walsh, convention chairman, who also is gaining in favor as a compromise nominee.

tioned seriously. Then suddenly whispers began to be heard, and those on the inside scurried about to learn more about him.

"Who is Brown?" they asked. "Oh, one of the Brown boys," a facetious person would reply. For although governor of his state, he was comparatively unknown outside of his own section.

Gov. Brown's career has been unusual. Born of poor parents in Ossipee, N. H., at the foot of the White Mountains, he worked in spare hours in a drug store and took his early education piece-meal. His education, obtained under difficulties, was complete. He is a graduate of Dartmouth.

As a youth he displayed ability as a ball player. He pitched or caught. Once his home town—he lived in Somersworth then, as he does now—played a neighboring town. The other team hired his teachers, but Brown "stood them on their heads" and won. He became the idol of the fans.

Meanwhile he studied law. The Boston National league team heard of Brown's prowess and signed him. He played with them for a while, and then joined Providence and later Jersey City. He continued his studies and when he passed the bar examination, he quit baseball professionally for good.

He has been elected mayor of his town 10 times and when he went into the gubernatorial race he did so under a natural handicap. The state had been republican. Until Brown was elected two years ago, not one democrat had been elected governor since 1872 in a two-party fight. In 1913 the republican ticket was split and a democrat walked in.

In 1922 he carried the state by 7000 votes.

At that time the state debt was nearly $300,000. In the first year he reduced it to $180,000 and the present fiscal year shows the debt entirely wiped out.

Governor Brown is a bachelor. His father and mother are alive. All live in Somersworth.

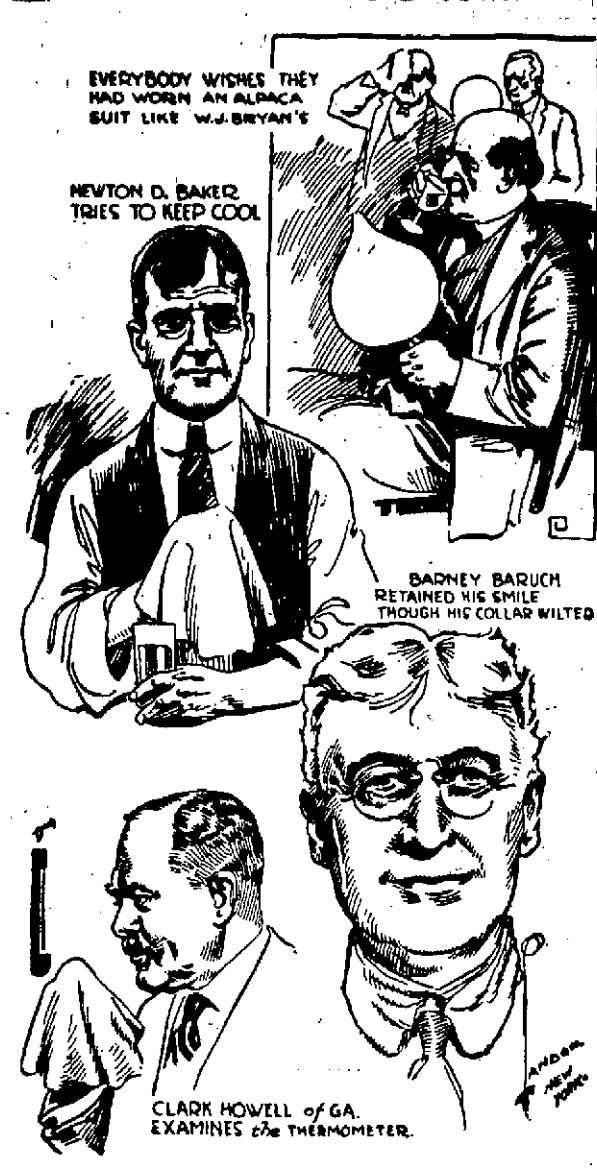

There never has been a Smith or Brown or Jones chosen for presidential honors. These three family names control a large bloc of votes and they are expected to rally around a man bearing their family name. Think of that start!

Brown is known as a sphinx. What a campaign! "Silent Cal" vs. "Fred the Silent One!"

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The United States destroyer La Vallette struck a reef off Fort Rose, 54 miles north of the entrance to San Francisco harbor in a dense fog an hour before dawn today, but reported to the naval radio station at 7:53 a. m. that she was off the reef and was proceeding.

Another report, picked up by the marine department of the chamber of commerce, said that she was undamaged.

Big Annual Outing Of Store Clerks

possibility that the Cherry & Webb clerks also will join the party. This special train will leave the Midlesex depot at 8:30 a. m. and on the return trip will leave the North station, Boston, at 9:30 p. m. If the Cherry & Webb clerks are included with the other three stores, the entire party will number approximately 400 men and women.

At Nantasket the party will break up into four separate groups, each to conduct its outing according to individual store and committee plans and desires. For instance, the Gagnon employees will have dinner at the Nantasket house, while the Pollard and Bon Marche clerks will dine at the Palm Gardens. The plans of Cherry & Webb's have not been fully completed as to details.

The special committee in charge of train arrangements and transportation between Boston and Nantasket includes James Saunders of the Gagnon Co., William Tucker of the Pollard company and John Foley of the Bon Marche.

Clerks of the Chalfoux company to the number of about 65 and employees of Fidler's Boston Ladies' Outfitters, totalling nearly 100, will spend the day at Hampton beach. In each instance the round trip will be made in fully decorated automobile trucks, leaving the city shortly after 8 a. m. and returning at the convenience of the picnickers in the evening.

At all the stores officers of the respective mutual benefit associations comprise committees in charge of the outings, aided by sub-committees on sports, games and general activities. It was announced at the Chalfoux Co. that the following officers of the Mutual Benefit association have outing plans in charge: Arthur Hiser, former president; Marion Shattuck, vice president; Louis Cole, treasurer; Margaret Cutler, recording secretary; Henry Chaput, secretary.

The Bon Marche committee includes: John Foley, president; P. Duval, vice president; Margaret Curley, treasurer; Jeanne Groux, secretary.

The Gagnon Co. plans are in the hands of James Saunders and Miss Rose Roussel.

William Hennessey is in general charge of the Fidler store outing.

OUT OUR WAY

In New York

NEW YORK, July 2.—Despite its enormity, New York is one of the easiest cities in which to find one's way about.

William Keith Saunders, 13-year-old schoolboy of Elizabeth City, N.C.,

Prescriptions

Four Registered Pharmacists and Everything in Drugs.

NOW AT 223 CENTRAL ST.

Howard

recently came to New York alone. It was the first time he ever had been in any large city. He made his way to all the interesting points without any aid—except the occasional questioning of a police officer.

After all, New York is but a small island. Rapid transportation is up-town and downtown—north and south. The streets are easily mastered, cross-town lanes being designated numerically.

Fifth avenue is the key street. It divides the east from the west. No matter where you are, if you do get lost and are too timid to ask questions, you can hop into a taxi, to be found in even most remote sections, and ride to some point familiar to you.

Compared with other large cities, New York offers little difficulty in navigation to the total stranger. Washington and Indianapolis are difficult to master. Chicago is impossible. Los Angeles is a problem.

in mid-town because of its heavy traffic, both pedestrian and vehicular. Detroit is tricky.

Little Bill Saunders didn't find New York any more awe-inspiring than the familiar streets of his Elizabeth City. The only thing that worried him, he related, was the traffic.

But under the rigid police supervision in New York, traffic probably is less dangerous—providing you wait for signals—than in Elizabeth City.

The subway is the solution to New York's ease and speed in travel. But most visitors are reluctant to go beneath the earth's surface to do their traveling. They depend on slower taxicabs and surface cars.

In the summertime New York fights to ride atop the Fifth Avenue busses.

They afford a vantage point unequalled for a tour of the aristocratic avenue.

During the rush hours it is impossible to maneuver into a seat. It is the only transportation in New York where you really get a seat for your time. They accept no standing passengers.

The other evening I rode down to Washington Square. Fully 200 people, many of them youthful lovers, were lined up ready to take their turn in a ride along the avenue and Riverside Drive.

But the bus is a nuisance in the height of the traffic rush. They are large and although handled with dexterity by expert drivers, seem always to be in the way of all other cars.

CHELMSFORD PLANS BIG JULY 4 CELEBRATION

Chefmsford will celebrate the Fourth in a manner that will not soon be forgotten by its residents. A big parade, a midway, a sports program and a fireworks display are planned and large committees of citizens from the various sections of the town are working day and night to make their part in the various events as big and colorful as possible.

In connection with the parade, which is to be one of the main features of the celebration, Chief Marshal Garfield A. Davis issued the following orders:

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 1

All participants will be in their respective places in ample time so that the parade may start promptly at 9:30 a. m., daylight saving time.

Each division will be under the direct supervision of the members of the general committee from that section of town represented assisted by aids previously selected.

As soon as possible after each division is in its proper formation members of the committee and aids will report to chief marshal at junction of Worthen street and Westford road.

Every indication is to the effect that the parade will be over a mile and a half long. The Centre is preparing a large number of floats and there are rumors that some unique "horribles" are being made ready as a surprise.

The Westlands reported that a canvass of every house had been made to secure funds for expenses of parade features, and that a good sum had been realized.

East Chelmsford citizens held a meeting last night and the spirit was most enthusiastic. They will be well represented in their own division as well as in the commercial section. South Chelmsford reported that the turnout of that section will be large and noteworthy.

North Chelmsford will have several floats and decorated automobiles in line as well as a number of representative business men serving as aids to the chief marshal.

West Chelmsford, which was not represented in last year's parade, will have a good number of features ready this year.

The judges for the prizes will be announced tomorrow. They will be well known Lowell men, who may be depended upon to make a fair and just award.

The committee on prizes has allotted the more than 40 prizes to the various classes, and now awaits the judges' decision as to who shall be the winners. There will be at least four bands in the parade.

The fire department will be represented by a limited number of pieces of apparatus, as well as a special float. It was deemed inadvisable for the complete department to appear in the parade because of the resultant possibility of delay should there be an alarm of fire.

NO MORE COLLECTIONS ON TOLL MESSAGES

Manager Leathers of the telephone company is preparing to send out to all subscribers an announcement that the tax on toll messages will not be collected after midnight tonight, Eastern Standard time.

While most of the provisions of the new federal tax act became a law with the signature of President Coolidge on June 2d, and went into effect immediately or were retroactive, as in the case of federal income taxes, the section dealing with the telephone and telegraph message tax was expressly declared to be effective 30 days after the enactment of the law. This period expires at midnight to-

No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin-eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid, they avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Why run this risk, when

Federal Tax on Telephone Toll Messages Ends Tonight

UNDER the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1924, all telephone messages will be free from tax on and after midnight, July 2, 1924 (Eastern Standard Time). The taxes imposed under the previous law were as follows:

On a telephone toll message for which the charge was more than fourteen cents and not more than fifty cents..... 5 Cents

On a message for which the charge was more than fifty cents..... 10 Cents

These taxes were highest, in proportion to the charge for service, for toll messages over moderate distances, the tax in some cases amounting to one-third of the toll charge.

We have anticipated the increased use of toll facilities that will follow the removal of these taxes and have taken necessary steps to prepare for it.

BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY POLICE SURPRISE BOYS IN PICTURE PRODUCTION AT CRAP GAME

BY JACK JUNGMEYER,
N.E.A. Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, July 2.—The battle of east and west is still waging in motion pictures.

Film folk are always ready to discuss it. Will the bulk of pictures be made in New York or in Los Angeles?

Will Hays, in his official pronouncements, has been in the habit of referring to Hollywood as the center of 90 per cent. of American film production.

Last December there was a drop of 10 per cent in Hollywood production activities, and although there was a half-hearted tendency toward recovery in March and April, about the same number of companies (in the sense of separate producing units headed by a director) have been working ever since.

This decrease in western production doesn't necessarily mean that the east has gained in the same proportion. However, it is apparent that the east has not lost any units, as the west has.

The proportion of production in the west is now 75 per cent. Actual checkup for the second week in June showed 73 pictures in production on the west coast, to 22 in the east.

First National has three production units of its own at the United Studio in Hollywood. Richard A. Rowland of First National has always favored eastern production. He announces that these three units will be called to New York.

In the Famous Players-Lasky organization a majority of the companies have always worked in the Hollywood studio. Jesse Lasky, vice president, has favored western production, while Adolph Zukor, president, argues for the east.

Probably 90 per cent. of the firm's pictures were made in Hollywood last year. This year the proportion will probably be 80 per cent. The second week in June there were five pictures being made in Hollywood and four in the Long Island Lasky studio.

"Peter Pan" was originally scheduled for production in Hollywood. The understanding now is that it will be made on Long Island.

Another producing company to favor Hollywood for New York is Associated Pictures, starring Barbara H. Starr. She is now at the Biograph studio, New York, to appear in "Sandra."

It is not probable that southern California will ever entirely lose the movie industry. In fact, the element climate and the variety of natural scenery, together with the vast financial investment that is in production, make an absolute desertion of the southland impossible.

But it will probably never have 90 per cent. of production again. If it maintains the present proportion of 75 per cent. it will be grounds for congratulation.

A group of boys, aged from 8 to 13 years, was sadly surprised this morning while "shooting crap" in the alley in the rear of the Fairburn building when three stalwart defenders of the law swooped down on them and demanded an accounting.

The officers were Edward Flanagan, John Savers and Harry Moroney, the two latter of the traffic division. Owing to the tender years and the many tears of the culprits, no arrests were made but the boys' names were taken and they were warned of the consequences if caught again.

TAFT AND ELIOT ARE HONORED

BOSTON, July 2.—Chief Justice William Howard Taft and Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, were among six persons whose election to honorary life membership in the American Unitarian Association was announced today. They are the first honorary members to be chosen by the association. The others chosen were:

Rev. Dr. Francis G. Peabody, former president of the Harvard university divinity school; Rev. Dr. J. Estlin Carpenter of the British and Foreign Unitarian association; Bishop Josef Pereno of the Unitarian churches in Transylvania; and Miss Louise Lee Schuyler of New York, who was recently awarded the Roosevelt medal for social service.

TAFFETA DRESSES
Taffeta dresses are being advocated for young girls, and they are made most attractive by bouffant skirts and crisp organdie collars and frills.

Carrots are ideal vegetables to grow in summer gardens.

LOANS OF $76,637,515 TO U. S. FARMERS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The federal intermediate credit banks have made loans aggregating $76,637,515 to the farmers of the country. In the slightly less than one year since the new credit system was organized, it was announced today by the federal farm loan board at the conclusion of the semi-annual conference of the board and officials of farm loan and intermediate credit banks.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY

Armand Perrault of Third avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury early last evening when he fell from a window in the third floor of the Elks' building in Middle street to the sidewalk. His fall was broken by planking which was being raised to the third floor window and it is believed his injuries consist of a fractured elbow and numerous bruises about the body.

The injured man is the son of Victor H. Perrault, contractor in charge of remodeling the Elks' building, and was working at a window on the third floor of the building unloading lumber which was being raised on an out-rigger from the street level. While waiting for a load to come up to the window at about 7:15 o'clock, he lost his balance and plunged towards the street, striking a load of lumber which was being raised and then crashing to the sidewalk.

He was taken to the Lowell General hospital where his condition is reported today as not serious and he is resting comfortably.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL TO EX-PRES. ROOSEVELT

Reading of a message from President Coolidge is to precede the dedicatory address.

Second: The trust will terminate on February 1, 1935, at which time the principal of the fund will be divided equally between Mrs. Cunningham and her three children, Leo, Helen and Pauline.

Legal guardians already have been appointed for the nine children. The committee which handled the fund, John F. Sawyer of the Union National bank, chairman and treasurer; Mayor John J. Donovan and Chief Edward F. Saunders, today expresses its sincere thanks and the thanks and deep appreciation of Mrs. Cunningham for the splendid public response to the fund, all of which came about without a word of personal solicitation other than a general invitation of the local newspapers. The fund grew to proportions much larger than any member of the committee dared predict and included subscriptions from every component part of the citizen-

VANDAL PIONICKERS

A good many Tom, Dick and Harrys, usually with feminine party guests and frequently a roistering party of joyous young folks of both sexes, bent solely upon having one grand outdoor outing via the automobile transportation route, are keeping up the obnoxious practice of littering up many beautiful country roadsides with picnic refuse of the most amazing varieties.

Complaints were voluminous from many rural district community land owners last year and in years before that, and they are coming in again from both municipal and town authorities and from owners of real estate located close to the important state highway transportation lines.

Littering of roadside parking places by motor picnickers has been an abuse especially prevalent on Sunday days and holidays. It has of late become more pronounced and disagreeable in sections where there are attractions of exceptional scenic interest.

The situation is not one that can be handled satisfactorily by drastic measures, according to Commissioner William F. Williams of the state department of public works and his associates in the highway division. The department has control of the state thoroughfares, of course, but has no department police force to patrol the roads and order motorists to collect the debris they throw around and leave after their Sunday picnic riots. The small state constabulary patrol force could not be expected to cover every roadside camping spot in such a campaign, having much other work to do that calls for more important police supervision.

Many attractive halting places along country roads in Middlesex county, for instance, formerly available for picnic parties, are now posted or fenced off with wire because the friendly land owners were indecently imposed upon by itinerant mobs of men, women and children, ignorant of all qualities of decency and cleanliness and with no regard for the owners or property where they revelled in Sunday outing "kill-care" fashion. Owners of land naturally resent having their properties littered up with old newspapers, boxes, bottles, food odds and ends and made unsanitary and unsightly as well. There are dangers, too, at certain seasons of the year, from conflagrations caused by abandoned campfires, lighted cigar stubs and cigarettes. More than 100 serious grass and woodlot fires were started last year alone through carelessly thrown lighted stubs of tobacco "smokes."

The town of Bourne is one of the first rural communities in the state to declare war on picnickers who scatter obnoxious litter. On highways running through that town today are posted conspicuously in many points notices containing the following warning, that all who motor along Bourne highways may read and digest:—

"The selectmen of Bourne have declared war on those who picnic in the town's public parks and near the highways, and depart without the formality of clearing away newspapers, tin cans, pickle bottles, food fragments and miscellaneous litter. Police officers have been instructed to summon to court anyone violating the above."

GROWTH OF CRIME

The long term grand jurors for Suffolk county have just issued a most remarkable and startling public statement. The gentlemen, whose terms expired June 30, deplore the increased number of social crimes they had to deal with. They emphasize the fact that many of the major crimes of today are committed by young men between 21 and 25 years of age. The legislature when requested, does not always enact more drastic laws dealing with stockbrokers' transactions, and this, too, is criticised by the grand jurors.

In this rather unusual letter, the jurors caution parents all to concern themselves more with reference to the general conduct of their children, particularly girls, as a means of checking the growing evils.

Nearly 500 criminal cases were presented to the Suffolk grand jury during the session just closed, according to Foreman Samuel Bernhardt. These were handled between Jan. 1 and June 30. Of this number, there were 674 indictments and 39 no-bills. With reference to the increase of social crimes, the grand jurors state that they cannot say "whether it is due to new economic conditions, to improper environment or unfortunate home surroundings."

It is urged that civic uplift societies, parent-teacher organizations of the different schools and religious organizations of the respective parts of the community take more active parts in stamping out lawlessness among the younger elements of the community. The grand jurors closed their unacknowledged statement by declaring:—

"There was never more need to combat this apparently increasing criminal tendency than now, and the campaign should be taken up more vigorously with everything a community can use to combat it. We believe that irrespective of race, creed and color, there was never, such a need of a greater appreciation of religion in the community as there is today."

NAMING THE FAVORITE

The democratic party, since the year 1822, has nominated or renominated six of its presidential candidates by acclamation in convention.

Andrew Jackson was the first, receiving the vote of every delegate assembled at that memorable convention held in Baltimore. Then came Martin Van Buren of the aristocratic field, but loyal party man, who in 1840, also at Baltimore, was called unanimously to take up the presidential candidate's reins and move forward with support in abundance promised.

The acclamation principle was not adhered to after that by delegates to democratic conventions until 1880, when Winfield Hancock was the unanimous choice after the second ballot. Grover Cleveland was nominated on the second ballot in 1884, at Chicago, and four years later by acclamation for re-nomination. Upon his third try, he was nominated on the first ballot at Chicago. In the year 1916, Woodrow Wilson was renominated by acclamation at the famous St. Louis convention—the year preceding the outbreak of the World war.

Perhaps Stephen A. Douglas holds the record for greatest number of ballots before convention choice. In the year 1860, in Charleston, he led on the 57th ballot and the convention then adjourned to Baltimore, where he was chosen on the second ballot taken there. In 1912, it took 46 ballots to make Woodrow Wilson the nominee in the first presidential campaign. Forty-four ballots were required to place James M. Cox in the field at San Francisco in 1920.

PRODUCTION EVILS

President William M. Wood's assumption that the present stagnation in the nation's textile industries, both cotton and woolen, cannot last much longer, is entirely justified. He might have added to that frank statement that the law of supply and demand is still working, although a good many textile interests outside of the American Woolen company's circle, lost sight of this ruling force before the big slump.

Over-production is not the greatest evil that American textile manufacturers have had to contend with, although they are accused sometimes of producing in such vast quantities as to overload sales channels and choke the progress of goods "from the mills to consumer." The flood of textiles from foreign countries is today the first problem that must be settled before American cotton and woolen mills can turn back the tide and secure outlets for American-made goods.

Mr. Wood's proverbial optimism has immensely helped American textile prosperity backers before, always with encouraging notes that ring true. We believe this renewed optimism as expressed by the textile magnate in an exclusive interview in The Lowell Sun last Saturday, will inject a new degree of genuine hope and courage into all cloth manufacturing circles, just as it has in the past. For it has become pretty generally understood that William M. Wood knows whereof he speaks on matters of the textiles and incidental thereto.

COOL HEADS NEEDED

A young Japanese has committed suicide as a protest against the American exclusion act. A body of Tokio students has "demonstrated" by breaking up an American dance. A boycott against American imports, largely against goods listed as luxuries, is in progress.

Such acts are the acts of hot-heads. The Japanese government, thus far, has kept cool with Coolidge. But it is possible for the acts of hot-heads to bring on war, no matter how cool officialdom remains, and America has hot-heads of her own.

Should the continued acts of hot-heads of Japan arouse anything like the anti-Jap sentiment prevailing in our Pacific coast states 10 years ago, there's no telling where the matter would end. Unfortunately, but undeniably, there are vicious elements on the Pacific coast that would take devilish pleasure in acts that might provoke war, at any time. Such elements are chronically opposed to peace, work and contentment and they should be kept under surveillance.

The great mass of sane people will keep cool with Coolidge on the Jap matter but there are a comparative few who are reckless enough to start anything.

Considering the magnitude of the tasks assigned and those in the office to be tackled before the end of the season, Lowell's street department forces deserve all credit for excellent performance thus far in many directions. The best part of the 1923 showing, both on paper and in the physical aspects of the work accomplished, is that more wisdom is being shown this year in carrying through important street construction and renovating contracts without serious delays, with the exception of an early stumbling when road-repairing material, imperatively required, was delayed in arrival.

You don't hear so much about "the predatory interests" nowadays. "Some of the families in stellar position in former presidential campaigns appear to have withdrawn temporarily within the tent, although some still have the wireless working in preparation for the November finale."

The latest dangerous-crossing placards in several New England communities where railroad still retain grade-crossings, read: "Cross Crossings Cautionously." Did that come from the college man in the big chief's office, or the end of the rails?

Lowell's quota of young men destined for the citizens' military training camp at Devens, was filled far in advance of many other New England cities in the recent lively enlistment campaign. It is a record to be proud of, for there was no such interest exhibited by Lowell youth last year or the year before, when the apathy created some comment in other sections of New England.

The farmer-labor progressive party does not even appear to be able to "store from within," according to customary precedent. Which makes it look ominous for this political congregation's chances in the presidential balloting to come.

The Walter's Tip

They had passed some happy weeks in California. The sunbathing was brilliant and the hotel fare was good. On the last day the waiter had their table decorated with flowers. "A pretty touch of sentiment," commented Mr. "More likely good business," declared Mr. "Huh?" asked Mrs. in surprise. "Have you noticed what these flowers are?" asked the observant Mr. "Forget-me-nots,"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Plunks and Plunks

After listening to the hoarder across the hall strum the banjo monotonously for an hour, Mr. Marsh Brown stepped over and asked the performer where he learned to play. "I have been taking a course of instruction by mail," was the reply. "You only seem to know a few chords." "Yes, but when I get some more money to send the man I'll know more. I sent him 10 plunks, and he taught me 10 plunks."—

Mean Man's Tip

A mean man had a good meal at a restaurant and then, when he had finished, dropped a half-crown on the floor. "Waiter," he said, as he paid his bill. "I just dropped two half-crowns. Find them for me will you?" The waiter disappeared under the table and in a short time emerged with the face of the man who had dropped the coin. "Sir," he said, "Thanks," said the man as he pocketed the coin and rose. "When you find the other keep it for yourself—tip, you know."—

Neptune With Him

Two pickanninies, not thoroughly accustomed to ocean bathing, were engaged in a "water fight" off a Florida beach one windy afternoon. The fight consisted of desperate attempts on the part of each combatant, breast deep in water, to dash more of the ocean in his opponent's face than he himself was getting. They did not notice the huge wave which rolled slowly up to them, lifted the little fellow nearest to the beach clean off his feet, and sent him gently to the back water. Considerably surprised, the pickanniny rose to the surface, dripping and spluttering, and turned to his companion, an avid expression on his face. "Boy," he said, breathlessly, "boy, yo got me licked."—Harper's Magazine.

According to Hoyle

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center, on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them." Hiram needed a pair of shoes; so he entered the store, and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Well, give me two pair," "What size?" "Number nine." When the clerk returned with the shoes, Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him. "Two pairs of shoes at three dollars is six dollars."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?" "Well, don't three of a kind take two pair?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Judge.

Always When There is Music

Always when there is music, it is you. Who came between me and the sound of strings? The cloudy portals part to let you through. Troubled and strange with long reverberations, your nearness gathers ghostly down the room. And through the pleading violins they play. There drifts the dim and delicate perfume. That once was you, come dreamily astray.

Behind what thin and shadowy doors you wait. That such frail things as these should set you free! When all my need, like armies at a gate. Would storm in vain to bring you back to me! When in this hush of strings you draw more near. Than any sound of music that I hear. —DAVID MORTON.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I am told that plans are being tentatively considered for a joint outing of Dr. Drilleto assembly and Bishop Delany assembly. Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, some time this month or early next month. Several places are being considered, among them Tucker's Point at Manchester, the Sun St. John's Prep school grounds and Salsola Willows. As yet, nothing definite has come out. Among those most enthusiastic for an outing is Rev. W. George Mullin, a member of Fr. Drilleto assembly, and formerly a chaplain and great K. of C. worker here. If plans now talked of mature, it will be a fine gathering, for both assemblies rank among the leaders in this part of New England.

The Fourth of July invariably awakens fond memories of days gone by, when Young America, forsooth, gave vent to its patriotic feelings in a more noisy way than in recent years. The day of the gigantic cannon crack and bangs, and the wild, safe and sane sound of the rattles, drums and it is being religiously adhered to with a lesser number of accidents and fires.

But what seems to have gone most noticeably, gone the way of the cannon cracker, the pistols and other species of that dangerous family of noise-producers, is the once-famed "shorties" made with its many splintering features. I can recall the Howards in their military antics, old Company Q from the flats with their continental uniforms, the Y.M.C.A. with its snappy outfit in a more or less dignified representation of some feature of the Declaration of Independence. It does seem as though the clubs and organizations had quite a time in those days. The last parade of the "shorties," if memory serves correctly, was

HELP YOURSELF

When noontime arrives and you step out to lunch it will generally turn out this way: What food you would dine on you haven't a lunch so you're shortly escorting a tray.

You travel along by a counter that's filled with the choicest of things; you're a slave to the call of your eye and your appetite's thrilled, though you can't just decide what you crave.

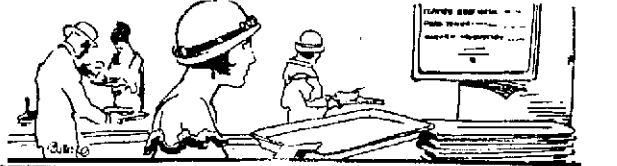

There are four kinds of meat and they all seem a treat and there's radishes, onions and lettuce. The potatoes are mashed and an gratin or hashed. Gee, it's funny how food dishes get us.

You hang up your hat and you take this and that till your tray is filled up to the brim. You stop to look twice at the things that are nice; oh, your appetite's surely in trim.

And then, when you're able, you lie to a table and feel that you're sitting in clover. You eat all you can, but say, where is the man who hasn't some foodstuffs left over?

It's always this way, at the noontime of day and it's true that you know you're a rummy. It just goes to show, we probably all know, that your eye can stand more than your tummy.

Members of the Lowell Knights of Columbus are delighted with the plans for the new home as pictured in last Saturday's Sun. Grand Knight Frank A. All modern conveniences will be at hand when the doors are reopened.

There is a possibility, I understand, of Bruce Douglas, city tennis champion, entering the second annual municipal tennis championship at Detroit, Mich., on Aug. 6. The big tournament is for the amateur championship of the United States, and should Douglas decide to enter, he would make a splendid showing. He captured the local city championship in 1923-24, while his sister, Queenie led the girls of the city for the same two years.

Anticipating an unusually large congregation at the ordination ceremonies in St. Jean Baptiste church next Sunday, the clergy of that parish have decided to allow only those having tickets to enter. Very Rev. The ordination will take place at the solemn high mass at 10.30 o'clock with Edward Ducharme of Worcester the recipient of the high honor.

Lowell veteran firemen are following New England district muster news closely, although little of this news is produced with Lowell hand-tub attachments as of yore. I was informed by brother Walker some time ago that Bath, Me., plans to hold a real old-time muster on the Fourth. I saw a news item yesterday in a Portland paper stating that 15 handtubs have thus far been entered in this Fine Tree state contest that should win both attendance and new laurels. The first handtub muster in Bath was conducted way back in 1818. The 1924 event will call all the first and second-class engines in Maine. The Rockland company, with tub "A. R. Councilors Resent Attempt To Change Regulations ordinance just uncovered is designed to make the March ordinance conform with the Haverhill practice.

"This new plan is practically the same as the March ordinance," he said, "except that we do not call for bids. There is no attempt to 'railroad' anything here tonight but we are in a hurry to put it through. We are ready to go and are waiting for you to say the word."

McFadden Takes Issue

Councilor McFadden, chairman of the charities committee, was on his feet when Mr. Gallagher concluded. "The charity department is waiting for the word 'go,'" he said. "This council gave them the word last March and they haven't done anything about it yet. He talks about the small dealer. It is the poor we are to take first to heart—not the dealer."

"As chairman of the charity committee I was surprised to learn of the trips to Lawrence and Haverhill. I was not asked to make the trips. I would have liked to have gone along. There have been no complaints made to me as to the March ordinance."

C. J. O'Neill Heard
Cornelius J. O'Neill, given the privilege of the floor, said he hoped the council would favor the plan of permitting the superintendent to select the dealer in each individual case rather than have the purchasing agent advertise for bids and have every one in Lowell know that any certain dealer had the contract of supplying the poor.

Mr. McFadden said that the March ordinance was drawn by James C. Reilly, former assistant district attorney for Middlesex county, at the request of charitable societies, and that Mr. Reilly had said that under the ordinance no one dealer need be selected, but that it is within the province of the purchasing agent to call from dealers of all sections of the city for bids, if he desired, and award separate contracts in the various sections. This, he said, would be preferable to having the superintendent name any dealer and have the poor pay any price rather than a stated bid price.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he wished to give notice that he will continue to insist that the matter of fuel distribution remain undisturbed as to distribution system. At this point the discussion ended.

Other Business of Session

The council voted to rescind its action at the last meeting in permitting Joseph H. Maguire, former election commissioner, to conduct a lunch cart in Appleton street near Gorham street and to authorize the city clerk to refund to him the $50 fee paid. C. J. O'Neill, attorney for Mr. Maguire, said that his client would surrender his common victualer's license and desired to avoid any possibility of a public hearing. He would admit, he said, that the wagon as placed constituted an obstruction to traffic and would seek a location on private property.

Appropriation orders were passed covering the purchase of eight acres of land in Centralville, for playground purposes, from the Seth B. Hall heirs and the expenditure of $15,000 for paving in Lawrence street.

Two objectors appeared at the public hearing on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light Co. for permission to locate a pole in Vernon street. Referred to Councilor Stearns. Opposition to a pole at 72 Swift street was also heard. Referred to Councilor Moriarty. Other petitions, meeting no objection, were referred to the board of public service.

Leave to withdraw was given on applications for pole locations in Mt. Hope and Abbott streets.

Honor Late Supt. Welch

On motion of Mr. Cosgrove it was voted that the city clerk be instructed to prepare appropriate resolutions of condolence on the death yesterday of Redmond Welch, former superintendent of police, and forward same to his family.

The petition for permission to erect a garage in Bellevue street, with entrance from Sheldon street, against which many protests were lodged, was referred to the city solicitor. Several recommendations of the fire chief relative to gasoline filling stations and garage locations were read and action deferred.

A letter from Police Superintendent Atkinson recommending favorable action on the retirement petition of Lindsey E. Ingalls, for 35 years a member of the force, was read and referred to the city solicitor, the usual course.

The recent legislative act providing authority to grant a $500 annuity to the widow of the late Capt. Edward J. P. Cunningham of the fire department, killed in the Associate building fire, was accepted.

Indians Jump From Seventh Place to Fourth in American League Pennant Race

CLEVELAND'S MIGHTY EFFORT LIFTS TEAM INTO FIRST DIVISION

Washington Holds Lead by Twice Winning From Slipping Red Sox—Yanks and Detroit Virtually Tied for Second Place—Ruth Makes 20th Homer

NEW YORK, July 2.—Cleveland's mighty effort which plunged the American league into turmoil and sent Washington into the lead ahead of New York, Detroit and Boston, has finally lifted the Indians from last place to the first division.

Speakers' tribe vaulted from seventh to fourth yesterday by winning two games from St. Louis by scores of 6 to 4 and 5 to 2, as Boston lost twice to the hunting Senators, 2 to 1 and 5 to 0, and Chicago was beaten by Detroit 13 to 3.

The new alignment gives Washington a three game lead over New York which shut out Philadelphia to 0, and losing to the Yankees, 5 to 0, and the Browns in seventh. Each is only seven contests back of first. The Athletics are eight and one-half games away from seventh.

Chicago dropped to fifth, a half game behind the Indians. The Red Sox, recently leading the league, are in sixth place, only one game ahead of the Browns in seventh. Each is only seven contests back of first. The Athletics are eight and one-half games away from seventh.

CITY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY ARNOLD E. HOWARD

Mt. Pleasant Star Has No Trouble in Walking Away With Crown at Vesper After Big Lead Piled Up At Longmeadow and His Home Club

Arnold E. Howard of Mt. Pleasant yesterday afternoon became Lowell golf champion for 1924 when the third and final round of the tournament was played over the Vesper Country club course. By scoring 81 yesterday Howard amassed a total of 230 strokes for the 54 holes of play, 12 strokes less than the second man and thereby went into clear and undisputed title of city champion.

"Bill" Kelly of Vesper through the medium of a brilliant round of 79 yesterday, went into the runner-up position and Marshall W. Forrest, who also scored a 79, came up to take third place. Forrest was the defending champion, but lost all chances of repeating when he played only mediocre rounds at Mt. Pleasant and Longmeadow.

The shield for the best team total went to the pair which led Mt. Pleasant by eight strokes.

Starting off yesterday with a 13-stroke advantage over the second man, Howard was almost a foregone conclusion that Arnold Howard would walk down to the 15th green a champion and he did just that. No super-golf flashed from his woods, but he did what he did best, he did it thoroughly and his well knit 81 represented an outward round of 41 and an inward journey of 40. He was always straight down the course, usually getting satisfactory distance off the tees; his approach shots invariably were on the mark and his putting was steady.

Playing with Howard N. Morton of Vesper and Tim Ward of Longmeadow, the new champion carried the gallery with him all the way round the long course, but it did not seem to constitute a mental hazard in any way and he played his shots with all the zip that he might expect in a practice round. A pair of strokes coming together on the 15th and 16th holes, constituted his only lapse, but there really was nothing to spur him on to better things for his outward score of 41 practically settled the disposition of the crown. His card showed six holes shot in par and two birdies. He grabbed a double on No. 4 and played No. 13 to the queen's taste to get a 4. His card showed 11 fives and by a peculiar coincidence, eight of them were won consecutively from the fifth to 12th holes inclusive.

All he had to do was to stay in there, keep on his two feet and hit 'em and the championship came to him without a murmur. He fully deserves his honors and his round of 81 at Mt. Pleasant a week ago, stands out as the high spot of the tournament.

This year's tournament was well conducted through the efforts of Tom Seaborn, Vesper, Jewett of Mt. Pleasant, Fred Moley of Longmeadow and Colin C. MacDonald. Details were carefully watched and much interest was manifested.

WANT BLEACHERS ON THE NORTH COMMON

With the organization of a Junior Twilight Baseball league having games scheduled on the North common diamond, residents of that section of the city have begun a concerted agitation for the erection of bleachers along the base lines, the marking of foul lines, and a general clean-up of the grounds as proposed over a year ago by the C.Y.M.U. and other active organizations in the area district.

It was at an alumni banquet of the C.Y.M.U. some time ago that Rev. John J. McGarry, D.D., pastor of St. Patrick's church, suggested that the North common be equipped with better sporting facilities for the younger generation. The matter was referred to the city, but since nothing has been done about it, the question has popped up again.

One of the most enthusiastic backers of the proposition is Frank Ricard, who has interested William Walsh, president of the Broadway club, and other citizens of the North End. It is their contention that at least portable bleachers could be erected near the ball diamond, and that various other needed improvements could be made. Such an accommodation is absolutely essential, they aver, if recreation and wholesome athletics are to survive. As matters stand today, spectators at ball games are forced to stand along the side lines after a tedious day's work. There are no benches for the players. The Junior Twilight league is composed of youngsters who will be the stars of tomorrow. If they are to be deprived of proper accommodations, the future of Lowell, athletically, is doomed.

PARK BOARD DISCUSSES AMATEUR BASEBALL

Amateur baseball was the subject of all the discussion at last night's meeting of the park commission and after listening to a legal representative of the Lowell Twilight league the board rescinded a previous vote giving the City league the sole use of the South common diamond and left the matter to be ironed out at a conference of league representatives with the commission at 4:30 p. m. today. William D. Regan appeared before the board for the Lowell Twi league and declared that the plan whereby that organization would play its games on the First street oval after July 1 was very unsatisfactory. The playing area is not in sufficiently good shape, he said, and the nearness of the boulevard is a dangerous hazard, he declared.

The business of the meeting was brief. Legal votes were passed whereby land near the Morey school will be taken for playground purposes and several free petitions were acted upon. The summer schedule of open air motion pictures on parks and playgrounds was discussed, and it was decided to begin the series on July 14.

WAS GRACEFUL LOSER
Helen Willis was at least a graceful loser. The American tennis champion lost her first two matches in England but had no alibi to offer. "I was just outplayed," she said—and meant it.

British aircraft experts recently conducted successful experiments with a plane that can land in almost any field.

LOWELL FIREMEN WANT TO PLAY SALEM

The speedy Lowell fire department baseball team got all fired-up the other day when they saw a news item in a Boston paper boasting volubly about Salem's "champion baseball team" which claims to have won 10 straight games and "now is willing to take on Lowell or Springfield firemen."

That "now willing" stuff is what got the boys at firehouse baseball headquarters in Palmer street and forthwith Manager Roy Symonds of Truck 4, conveyed a crisp message to Salem telling the Witches that Lowell is ready and anxious at any time or place.

Lowell's winning record this season is nothing to be ashamed of. Only one game went bloop, and that was when the local firemen tripped it to Derry, N. H., to meet up with a semi-pro team known as the A.A.'s. Lowell lost, 8 to 3, but it was a ball game. That was last Thursday.

The local firemen's aggregation has played and easily won games thus far this season with these scores tallied: Newton, 7 to 5; Lynn, 15 to 7; Revere, 8 to 4; State team, Tewksbury, 12 to 2.

Capt. Thomas would take the following outfit to Salem. In case the so-called champions acknowledge the Lowell deft and accept the challenge: Reuben B. Thomas ss, Collop 1b, Symonds p, Caveney cf, Nickerson cf, Ready lf, White c, Hurley 3b; Callahan and Donnelly, reserve pitchers; Currier, utility infielder; Lobley, utility outfielder.

The quieter patients of a lunatic asylum near Dublin, Ireland, took the place of the regular attendants during a strike recently.

WARE TEAM DEFEATS SILESIA OUTFIT
At Ware last evening the Silesia team of North Chelmsford lost a 6 to 1 verdict to the Ware team. Forsythe, the new second sacker recently signed by Silesia, played his first game last night.

This evening at North Chelmsford, the Silesia team will engage in a return game with Ware, and the players look for a reversal of the decision in their favor. The Detroit Clown team will be the attraction tomorrow evening, while Salem town outfit will be the holiday visitor on the afternoon of the Fourth.

BUTLERS DEFEAT EAST ENDS IN CITY TWI LEAGUE, 20 TO 14

Weird Exhibition of Baseball as Butlers Came From Behind to Swamp Centralville Team—East Ends in Comedy of Errors

CITY TWILIGHT LEAGUE STANDINGS	Won	Lost	Ave.

In a weird exhibition of baseball on the South common last evening, the Butlers defeated the Centralville East Ends by a score of 20 to 14, and took third place in the City Twilight league standing. The game was farcical in many respects, both teams presenting a combination of errors and mishaps that detracted from the interest.

Runs crossed the plate with surprising frequency, at least one man counting in every frame. In the first, when Umpire Allen called for a cessation of hostilities because of darkness, the Butlers registered eleven times, while the East Ends pushed eight markers over in the second.

In coming from behind and landing the verdict, the Butlers got 16 hits, Manager Billy Rogers, playing his first game at third base, leading in the onslaught with three timely smashes, one of them a double to left.

The East Ends, on the mound for the Centralville team, were in the lead, but the Butlers used their pitchers, Griffin, Laflamme and Carroll. The latter was credited with the victory.

MLLE. LENGLEN RETIRES

Forced to Withdraw at Wimbledon Because of Illness

—Richards Beaten

WIMBLEDON, England, July 2. (By the Associated Press.)—The Wimbledon lawn tennis championships today entered the closing stages after a day of acrobatic play, including the withdrawal of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the time woman champion of the world because of illness, and the defeat of Vincent Richards, brilliant young American internationalist by Jean Borotra of France.

Borotra's defeat of Richards was totally unexpected, as the young New Yorker had displayed sufficient strength to warrant the assumption that he would at least advance to the final round and probably carry off the honors of the tournament.

Miss Lenglen Heart-Broken

LONDON, July 2.—The Daily Express understands that Suzanne Lenglen's withdrawal from the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships is the result of a heart attack, just after she had learned of the doctor's ruling that she should cease play.

SPORTING EDITOR, LOWELL SUN.

Dear Sir—The North Ends, after winning four decisive victories, are going after big game next Sunday on the North common by playing the strong Centralville East Ends, a City Twilight team.

The North Ends are composed of such fellows as the Bernier brothers, Gagnon, Kluba, Marotte, Demaris, and other strong players, making them a strong combination.

Among their victims towards the city championship are the strong Kenwood Rovers, Appletons, C.Y.M.L. and Collinville A.A.

Sunday's game is their first big test this season, but they are confident of the outcome.

Thanking you for your space and time, I remain yours,

LOWELL FIREMEN PUT OUT NEWTONS, 13 TO 4

Newton fire department baseball stars came to Lowell yesterday full of bristling hopes and courage, bent upon whitewashing Lowell fire department's crackerjack diamond experts. It was a sad story. The local fire laddies simply smashed the old spheroid to all quarters of the South common, ran bases like a flock of sheep and made the "Newts" a fond farewell at the end of a spectacular all-smothered ninth inning.

Nothing like it was ever seen before on the fallow reaches of the diamond where the slaughter occurred. Heavy-stickers of the Lowell red-hat brigade did the trick, aided by near-errorless playing all the way through the base-running relay contest. Twenty safeties were chalked up by the merry locals from the on-a-silver platter offerings of Fitzgerald and Eschbach, while Newton could only trade mark six from Symonds.

Earlier and Nickerson flinched at bat for the tame local, while Thomas was the leading ace-high-and-you-thewin-the-game.

The tragedy in full—

STATEMENT BY BUICK MOTOR COMPANY

The mystery is over. Eight new body models on a chassis of 114 1/2 wheel base, embodying a new six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine with a 2 1/2-inch bore and 1 3/4-inch stroke is the sensational announcement just made by the Buick Motor company. This is the good news that the automobile public has been eagerly waiting for, their interest previously aroused by advertisements predicting something new and sensational in automobile production efforts.

The Buick company announces that the new six-cylinder model is to be known as the "Standard Six." The body models will consist of a five-passenger, double-service sedan; a two-passenger roadster; a two-passenger, enclosed roadster with heater; a five-passenger touring; a five-passenger enclosed touring with heater; a two-passenger double-service coupe; a five-passenger sedan; a four-passenger coupe.

Probably the most striking features of the new models are the completely enclosed sedan and coupe on the open cars, and the low-pressure tires on all models. The cars with the enclosed tops will carry heaters. The tops and sides are so designed that they harmonize well with the distinctive body lines.

They are upholstered with leather, with special cushion springs effecting a high degree of motoring comfort. Other models are furnished with upholstery of durable cloth in pleasing colors. The engine is valve-in-head type with automatic lubrication throughout and with the cylinder head removable. The engine produces 50 horsepower. Many new devices are installed for lubrication purposes. The carburetor is the improved automatic float-feed type. Ignition is supplied by high tension jump spark system, the clutch is a multiple disc, dry plate, requiring but slight pressure to operate; control is by means of short spark and throttle levers in the centre of steering wheel, friction retained.

The new transmission is the selective sliding gear type, three speeds forward and one reverse. The gears are special and heat treated. Other innovations are the service brakes, floating rear axle, by which all the weight of the car is taken on axle tubes and only driving torque is taken by axle shafts. Spiral bevel gears are fully adjustable.

The wheels are of artillery type with hub flanges. Tires are 31 by 4.55 inch, low pressure, on all models. The steering gear is of improved semi-

PARIS, July 2 (by the Associated Press).—Announcement of the final entry lists today reveals that a total of 1430 athletes, representing 45 nations and comprising the greatest field in Olympic history, will battle for the international track and field laurels beginning next Sunday in the Colombes stadium.

Of the individual events the 100-metre dash has the largest field, 97 athletes representing 35 nations, while the 400-metre relay is the most popular team contest with 121 entries from 20 nations.

The hammer throw has drawn the fewest competitors, 18 representing 10 nations, of which the United States has four stalwarts who are expected to score a clean win.

The entries cover 25 events, in one of which—the cross country—individual, as well as team first places count, thus providing 27 gold medals altogether.

The two dashes, the 400-metre run and the two relays are the only events attracting more than 80 entrants each, the other averaging about 50.

The Marathon, the classic and concluding feature of the games, has 62 entries from 22 nations, including six Americans, who are generally admitted to have excellent chances in this event.

LORAIN DIGS ITSELF
OUT OF RUINS

LORAIN, Ohio, July 2.—(By the Associated Press). This city continued today to dig itself out of the ruins wrought by Saturday's tornado.

Order and systematic relief have been established, considerable progress is being made in cleaning up the wreckage.

Only in residences fit for habitation has there been any attempt to put things in order or to make repairs. Most repair work has been only of temporary nature. Hundreds of demolished residences have not yet been explored for dead.

Work of clearing the ruins of the State theatre, where authorities think there still may be a few bodies, continued with the aid of steamshovels. The list of dead remained at 65 early today.

So great is the amount of personal property recovered from the ruins that the military today established "effects depots" throughout the affected area, where all property is to be taken and delivered to the owner, upon proper identification.

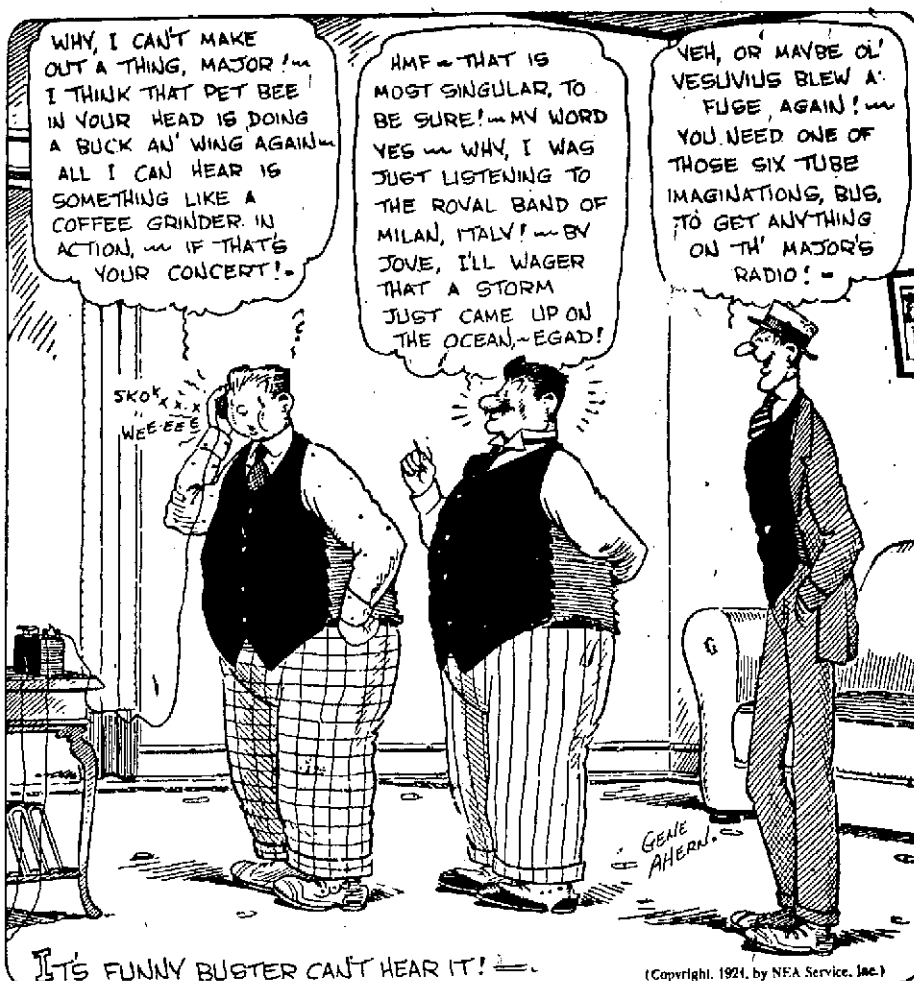

National officers of the Red Cross arriving yesterday, made a survey and completed organization for relief work. They were to meet today with Gov. Donahay and the general state relief committee.

WILL SELL LOWELL JAIL
AT PUBLIC AUCTION

The Middlesex county commissioners have reached a decision, to sell the Lowell jail property, in Thorndike street at public auction and have authorized Walter E. Guyette, local real estate dealer, to prepare all necessary plans and details and conduct the sale. No date for it has been set.

Decision to dispose of the property in this manner was reached only after repeated efforts at direct sale had been unsuccessful, the commissioners feeling that the jail buildings are distinctly in the "white elephant" class and see no likelihood of their use as a penal institution in the future.

The buildings in Thorndike street are of such construction as to limit their use, but Mr. Guyette feels there will be a number of bidders for the property when the sale comes and particularly refers to its possible adaptability as a storage plant, with the easy transformation of the residence into a private hospital.

In addition to the jail buildings there is a large tract of land extending down Thorndike street as far as Hale street and in the rear running back to the Boston and Maine tracks. The total area involved is 231,000 square feet and Mr. Guyette points out that there is room enough for 60 individual house lots. He will give the auction sale wide publicity and will place the date of sale far enough ahead to allow for all necessary preparations.

With the advent of prohibition and the transfer of most of the county's criminal business to East Cambridge the Lowell jail has not been of any use to the county.

Davis of West Virginia gained six, Cox lost three, Davis of Kansas lost two.

Mississippi Flies to McAdoo
It went along without much change until Massachusetts when the half vote that had been with Gaston went back to Smith. There was little change otherwise until Mississippi flopped into the McAdoo column with her 20. The combined efforts of William Jennings Bryan, Senator Pat Harrison and the McAdoo floor managers had won over the one-seventh of a vote.

A McAdoo procession was quickly formed, and the McAdoo adherents went around the hall bearing state standards, the old resounding with the familiar "Wah-Hoo" and "Hoop-La" of the McAdoo warriors.

While the procession was passing Missouri was trying to poll and make up a decision.

McAdoo Demonstration
An outsider parading grabbed the Missouri standard and raised it high with the McAdoo paraders. It came down in a flash with some Davis men on the other end and the volunteer standard bearer narrowly missed a bloody nose.

When the demonstration quieted down, Missouri passed to have more time in making up a poll.

The Mississippians were prepared, it was said, to stay with McAdoo for five ballots and see what strength he can develop. Then they planned to look elsewhere for a winner if McAdoo failed to move up.

New Hampshire took away a full vote from Walsh of Montana, and divided it between Smith and McAdoo.

Oklahoma Returns to McAdoo
Oklahoma flopped back to McAdoo on this ballot, after having made a short excursion on the previous ballots with Senator Owen. That brought out a new McAdoo demonstration and some new signs went up. They read: "McAdoo forever."Excursions to Salem Willows

TALK BY "BOB" QUINN

President of Red Sox Addresses Members of Holy
Name Society

"Bob" Quinn, popular president of the fighting Boston Red Sox of the American Baseball league, delivered an informal, but highly instructive address before the members of St. Michael's Holy Name society in St. Michael's school hall last evening.

Coming here at the earnest solicitation of Rev. James F. Lynch, spiritual director of the Holy Name society, President Quinn was forced to leave his busy desk in Boston. He was given a spontaneous reception as Chairman James Mullen introduced him to the St. Michael's men as "the leader of the next American league champions."

Many humorous and interesting anecdotes of baseball as it was played when Mr. Quinn was in his prime kept the audience enthralled for several minutes. He told of the many hardships encountered by the old pioneers in the national pastime, of his own fight against odds to place himself on a high pedestal in the baseball world, and of the many cares and anxieties of a big league president. "There are more heartaches connected with baseball," he said, "than any other business."

During his successful regime as head of the Red Sox, Mr. Quinn said he has received numerous anonymous letters, signed by "A Fan," "Red Sox Booter," etc., offering suggestions as to the best methods of improving his team and developing young players.

It is all very easy for the fans to criticize, he added, but it's a different proposition when one has to go out and endeavor to do the right thing. Ball players are not easy to find, but as long as his team is up in the pennant race, it will be popular, he said. Once it begins to "hit the skids," however, pandemonium will break loose in freedom and the result may be surmised.

In reference to popularity, the speaker said it was "all bunk." "They tell me I'm popular in Boston," were his words. "Yes, I may be popular now, but where will I be if my team hits a downward grade? Popularity is fleeting and should be ignored." To illustrate his text, Mr. Quinn recounted the experiences of two old ball-players, once prime favorites in every park they played. Something went wrong and they faded into oblivion almost overnight.

The sacrifices of old-time ball players, especially in the matter of transportation, were vividly described by the big league magnate. Instead of the great Pullman sleepers now demanded by the large stars in travelling from one city to another, the stars of yesterday were content to ride in "uppers," at that time considered a real luxury. The "jumps" from town to town were manipulated by some of the players in most peculiar ways, he added, as off-time the club with which they were playing was unable to pay expenses and "uppers" it was not uncommon to travel in freight-cars, he said.

Mr. Quinn, an enthusiastic Holy Name man, exhorted the members of St. Michael's branch to live up to the principles of the society at all times. He recalled a visit here during the recent mission when he was edified by the large membership, and he urged the men to continue in their practice of devotion to the ideals of the organization. He was tendered a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of his talk.

Among the other entertainers last evening were James R. Coughlin, who rendered two pleasing recitations; James E. Donnelly, in songs and stories, and James Duffy, clog-dancer. Rev. Thomas J. Heaney was presented as an invited guest.

The affair was brought to a close about 40 o'clock after refreshments had been served.

FURTHER CUTS
IN TAX BILLPublic Purse Will Heave Another Sigh of Relief at Midnight TonightReductions in Nation's Tax
Bill Under Revenue Law
Become Effective

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The public purse will have another sigh of relief at midnight tonight, when further cuts in the nation's tax bill under the new revenue law become effective after the 30-day period stipulated from its enactment. The so-called nuisance taxes are abolished entirely while in the field of miscellaneous taxes generally, material reductions take effect.

Included among the old law assessments which are eliminated outright are those on telegraph and telephone messages and the stamp tax of two cents per hundred dollars on drafts, checks and promissory notes. The tax on theatre admissions of one cent for each ten cents charged, is changed to apply only on admissions in excess of 50 cents.

The five per cent tax on jewelry articles including musical instruments so classified, will apply only on those exceeding $30 in value and on watches only of a value of $60.

Although the law levies a new tax of 5 per cent on automobile chassis and bodies and motorcycles and 3 per cent on truck or wagon chassis selling for more than $100 and bodies selling for more than $200, it compensates in a measure by cutting in half the 5 per cent on automobile parts and accessories.

Another cut to become effective is that from two cents to one cent per hundred dollars in the stamp tax on sales of produce, boards of trade and similar trading marts.

Among articles freed entirely of the tax levied under the old law are: pleasure boats and canoes, candy, hunting and howie knives, dirk knives, daggers, sword canes, rattlesnake, brass and metallic knuckles, smoking stands, liveries and livery boots and hats, hunting and shooting garments, riding habits, yachts and motor boats not designed for trade, fishing or national defense and X-ray films and plates.

BIG ANNUAL OUTING PLANNED BY LOWELL STORE CLERKS

Over 800 Genial Attaches of City's Largest Department Stores Will Abandon Counters and Desks for the Seashore on Thursday of Next Week

Upwards of 800 clerks in six of Lowell's largest stores will leave counters and desks next week Thursday, which has been designated as the annual outing day at Pollard's, Cherry & Webb's, Bon Marche, Fidler's, Boston Ladies' Outfitters, Chalfoux's and the Gagnon company, and spend the entire day at beach resorts. This means there will be practically no shopping and the usual

Of unusual interest this year is the completion of plans whereby three and possibly four of the stores will use a special Boston & Maine train to travel to and from Boston on a trip to Nantasket beach. The municipal charity department and newly proposed changes in the time-honored methods of caring for the needy of the city provided the topic for an hectic hour of discussion at last night's meeting of the city council. From the office of the city solicitor there was introduced a new ordinance changing the ordinance passed last March, and never put into effect, and providing for radical changes in the accustomed methods of extending relief. The chief feature of the newest proposed ordinance is that under it the superintendent of charities could in his discretion designate what grocer shall serve the beneficiary, whereas under the ordinance passed a few months ago the purchasing agent would be compelled to advertise for

McAdoo Gets Two Votes From New York Delegation on 37th Ballot

Action Started McAdoo Supporters Off on Another Demonstration

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 2.—The first break in the big block of 90 votes which constitutes the cornerstone of Gov. Alfred E. Smith's strength in the democratic national convention came today on the 37th ballot. Two members of the New York delegation cast their votes for William G. McAdoo and started the supporters of the former secretary of the treasury on another big demonstration.

The two delegates breaking to McAdoo were Lathrop Brown of St. James and Roscoe Irwin of Kingston.

Smith supporters said the two men casting the votes for McAdoo were personal friends of that candidate but the McAdoo forces got as much encouragement out of it apparently as if they had won over a state delegation.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, campaign manager for Gov. Smith and chairman of the New York delegation broke the unit rule himself at San Francisco and consequently in this convention he gave instructions that delegates were to vote as they personally desired.

First Change in Colorado

The first change today came in Colorado, where McAdoo lost one to John W. Davis.

Massachusetts made no overnight change and Maryland's 16 were still holding good for Ritchie.

North Carolina took back the single vote it had been giving to Smith and added it to Col. Gaston.

Vote For Col. Gaston

While the call for the 33rd ballot was going on William Jennings Bryan had a whispered conference on the platform with Chairman Walsh.

In Massachusetts on the 32nd ballot, William A. Gaston got a half vote from the Smith collection. McAdoo's was unchanged.

On the 34th ballot for Colorado, McAdoo lost one; Smith gained a half vote. While the balloting was going on there were things doing in the Mississippi delegation. The Davis people were holding it for the West Virginians by a seventh of a vote, and the McAdoo people were making heroic efforts to win it over. They did not discount the moral effect of having Mississippi's 20 votes flipping back in the McAdoo column and they hoped it would pave the way for Missouri to do the same thing later.

In Illinois, there were some changes, Davis of West Virginia gained six, Cox lost three, Davis of Kansas lost two.

WOULD USE JAIL YARD FOR AUTO PARKING

Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department today communicated with County Commissioner Erson B. Barlow recommending that the yard of the unused county jail be thrown open for free parking on July 4 as a means of affording relief to the usual traffic congestion at that date at South common. Superintendent of Police Thomas R. Atkinson and Traffic Sergeant Edward Connors have endorsed the recommendation of the park head that the yard be opened. Mr. Barlow expressed himself as favorably inclined and promised to get in touch with the other two members of the commission.

LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

As result of a recent raid by federal enforcement agents at a Salisbury beach hotel, Antonio Barber, 320 Lawrence street, Lawrence, and Salvatore Lono, 31 Merrimack street, Methuen, were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh today charged with violations of the prohibition laws.

Both waived preliminary hearings and were held in bonds of $500 for the federal court at Boston.

Barber is charged with the illegal possession of a quantity of beer and whiskey, seized in the raid by Agent Walter H. Sullivan and Lono is charged with illegal sale at the hotel.

Stephen Noone, Lawrence, charged with illegal sale on June 27 at 110 Essex street, also waived examination and was held in $500 for the federal court.

The case of Philip Cohen of Lowell, charged with illegal transportation, which had been before the commissioner several times on points of law, was settled today when Commissioner Walsh found probable cause against the defendant and ordered him held for the federal court.

Two or three Haverhill cases were on for hearing, the first being that of Frank Darmoff, charged with illegal possession. He was represented by Atty. Franklin Priest of Haverhill, who argued an alleged invalidity of the state search warrant and raised the question of improper procedure under it. After long argument on points of law between Mr. Priest and Asst. Dist. Atty. William J. White, Jr., the commissioner reserved his decision until a later hour. Another Haverhill case went to hearing at 1 p. m.

Californian Makes Comeback After Losing 11 Votes on the 33rd Ballot

Col. Wm. Gaston Got Half Vote From Smith Collection on 33rd Ballot

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., July 2.—Driving ahead full speed to make the greatest showing of strength they could muster, Smith and McAdoo forces went out today to roll up their scores in the hope of reaching a point of decision in the democratic national convention.

McAdoo forces, using all the powers at their command, won the Mississippi delegation with its 20 votes away from John W. Davis of West Virginia and brought it back into the McAdoo column.

William Jennings Bryan expressed his appreciation of Mississippi's return to the McAdoo fold by dividing among the women of the delegation an artificial sunflower, a red rosebud and a faded red carnation.

Totals for the 31st ballot follow: Underwood 38½, McAdoo 415½, Robinson 23, Smith 32½, Davis of West Virginia 127, Ritchie 16½, Cox 57, Davis of Kansas 6, Glass 24, Ralston 32, Walsh 24, Saulsbury 6, Owen 25. Total 1098.

32nd Ballot

On the 32nd ballot, the leaders stood: McAdoo 414½, Smith 321, Davis 128. McAdoo was unchanged. Smith lost one-half a vote, and Davis gained one-half vote.

The totals for the 32nd ballot follow: McAdoo 414½, Smith 321, Davis 128, McAdoo 414½, Robinson 24, Davis of West Virginia 128, Ritchie 16½, Cox 57, Davis of Kansas 6, Glass 24, Ralston 32, Walsh 24, Saulsbury 6, Owen 24. Total 1098.

33rd Ballot

The totals for the 33rd ballot were: Underwood 39½, McAdoo 404½, Robinson 23, Smith 310½, Davis of West Virginia 121, Ritchie 16½, Cox 49, Davis of Kansas 6, Glass 22, Ralston 32, Walsh 23, Saulsbury 6, Owen 25, Ferris 30, Gaston ½. Total 1095.

Opening another day's business with the 31st ballot, the convention found the lines of all contenders holding fast around the divisions as they were left last night. There was little change for the leaders in the 32nd ballot.

More than 116,000 Germans left their native land to live abroad last year, contrasted to the 3230 who left Germany in 1919.

CONVENTION JULY 4
CLEVELAND, July 2.—Final plans for the conference of progressive political action convention here July 4 are to be discussed by the national committee at its first session here today. With the nomination of Senator La Follette virtually a certainty, the committee is expected to discuss vice presidential possibilities. This question apparently being the only important one not decided. Bishop Francis McConnell of the Methodist church, chairman of the inter-church world committee; R. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and virtually all of the progressive block of senators have been mentioned. Arthur E. Holden, executive secretary of the conference said.

Councilors Resent Attempt to Change Regulations

bids from persons conducting grocery and provision stores and orders would be drawn by the charity department upon the successful bidders.

Fitzgerald Calls Halt

Councilor Eugene A. Fitzgerald strenuously objected to immediate action on the proposed ordinance, citing the fact that the ordinance passed last March to supersede the ordinance now in vogue has been honored in the breach rather than in the observance.

Mr. Fitzgerald was in favor of the new change being committed for study and moved that in the meantime the old ordinance be continued in force. He called attention to the fact that there is now pigeon-holed by the committee on charities an amendment to the March ordinance, presented by him and having special reference to the distribution of fuel, which he feels should take precedence over any other amendments even should such amendments be offered as supplanting ordinances.

"We passed a new charities ordinance in this council last March and it has never been put into effect," said Mr. Fitzgerald. "The charity department is today operating under the same ordinance as it was before last March."

"The ordinance we passed in March is the ordinance the department should be working under," said President Gallagher. "If the department is not working that ordinance it is working in violation of it."

Would Study New Plan

Mr. Fitzgerald pressed his point and urged that the March ordinance be suspended, that the newest ordinance be referred to committee for digest and report, and that the charity department superintendent be instructed to continue under the old ordinance.

Councilor Sadler said that the latest move is in accord with the desire of the superintendent that he be unlimited in the distribution of orders among such dealers as he sees fit to favor with patronage. The intent of the latest proposal is to permit this distribution of patronage rather than have the purchasing agent determine through competitive bidding who shall furnish groceries to the poor, he said.

President Gallagher said the proper procedure would seem to be to refer the new ordinance to the committee on ordinances. Mr. Lambert said he could not understand why the legal department should propose another new ordinance. "Why don't they propose to change the new ordinance by striking out reference to bidding and the purchasing agent?" he asked.

Mr. Daly raised the point that it is not within the power of the council to suspend an ordinance by vote, without any preliminary procedure, stating that public hearings and proper advertising of same must precede such action.

"I took this to be an amendment to the March ordinance—the new ordinance," said Mr. Sadler. "If it is a new ordinance the city solicitor must have forgotten that we have a new ordinance already. The superintendent of charities and Mr. Gallagher of his office is here. I think the council should hear from them."

Council President Gallagher ruled that the comment of the councilors clamoring for the floor would take precedence.

Raps "Cabinet" Trip

Mr. Fitzgerald again assumed the initiative. "I appeared before the charity committee some time ago with an amendment to the March ordinance," he said. "This amendment had particularly to do with the method of distributing fuel. The committee took the matter under advisement and on motion of Councilor Chretien decided to visit other cities and study their systems."

"They didn't go. Instead the mayor, the superintendent of charities, the purchasing agent and the city solicitor went. I want to say now that I do not think it was right that they should do this rather than the charity committee."

Mr. Cosgrove arose to say that in view of the confusion attendant upon the introduction of the ordinance that the whole matter should be referred to committee. First, he felt, the council should hear from the charities superintendent.

"The proper place for any explanations would be before the committee and not here," said Mr. McPadden. Mr. McPadden sided with Messrs. Daley and McPadden and favored the matter going to committee without further comment. Mr. McPadden said the committee on ordinances could go into the matter and then report.

Why That Committee?

Mr. Lambert raised the point that the committee on charities, of which he is a member, was being ignored when he felt it was most concerned.

"The ordinance committee will probably invite your committee to participate in the discussions," said President Gallagher. Mr. Fitzgerald said he was willing to withdraw his motion relative to suspension of the March ordinance and ordinances. Mr. McPadden moved to include the charities committee and the motion was amended carried.

"Are you sure that is an ordinance or is it an amendment?" Mr. Fitzgerald asked the chair. Mr. Gallagher said:

that while introduced as an ordinance this latest measure was, in fact, and to all intents and purposes, an amendment.

The Departmental View

Mr. Sadler suggested that the council hear from William H. Gallagher, chief clerk in the charities office, who was present with the superintendent. He was given the privilege of the floor.

Mr. Gallagher said that while the new ordinance was passed in March no steps to put it into effect had been taken under the then superintendent of charities. When the present incumbent was qualified for office he took the matter up with him, he said, and was ordered to prepare to put it into effect as soon as practicable.

About this time, he said, charity workers interested and instrumental in passing the March ordinance came to the office and suggested a change to permit needy folks to trade in the same stores they had been trading. This, he said, was on the ground it would not be fair for them to pass up the small neighborhood merchant who had been supporting the family on credit and patronize someone else with charity department orders which were practically ready cash.

Tells of Visiting Trip

In company with the mayor, the city solicitor, the purchasing agent and the departmental superintendent he visited Haverhill and Lawrence and examined the systems in vogue there, he said. The Haverhill ordinance was approved by all, he said, and the new

BOY SCOUTS WILL GIVE DEMONSTRATION

This evening at 8 o'clock in St. Anne's parish house, the Boy Scouts of Troop 10, will present a demonstration of the various activities involved in the Boy Scout movement. Demonstrations of first aid, life saving, camping, signaling and the uses of the scout neckerchief will be included in the program. A reel of scout motion pictures will be shown. These pictures illustrate very clearly the Boy Scout methods of making fire by friction, building towers, signaling and camping, etc. Following this, Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen will present a banner won by the troop at the second annual spring rally at the Lowell council, Boy Scouts of America, which was held Flag day in the state armory on Westford street. Scoutmaster Edward Timms of Troop 17, will be chairman of the evening. This demonstration has been planned especially to give the parents and friends of Boy Scouts a general idea of the life of a scout. All Lowell Boy Scouts are urged to attend this meeting with their parents.

Aside from this meeting there was little of other than routine activity at city hall today. Supt. Kernan of the park department announced that playground instructors have been advised to attend a meeting with him at 3.30 o'clock Monday afternoon at which time instructions for the summer season will be given.

William Drapau, contractor designated to erect the new comfort station and shower baths on the North common, filed the plans today and received a construction permit from the building department.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A head-on collision of automobiles on the Pawtucket boulevard near the municipal bathhouse early last evening resulted in slight injuries to two occupants of the cars and serious damage to the machines.

The machines involved were operated by Charles Thibault of Nashua, who was proceeding towards the New Hampshire line, and Peter Papis, also of Nashua, who was driving towards this city. Mr. Papis and Antonio Thibault, an occupant of Charles Thibault's car, received minor cuts and abrasions and were treated at the Lowell General hospital, later returning to their homes in Nashua.

NO CRIMINAL RESPONSIBILITY

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
 "No Mother to Guide Her," a heart story put on the screen by William Fox, under the direction of Charles Moran, opens its engagement tomorrow for the rest of the week at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is an adaptation of the stage play by Lilian Mortimer. The plot deals with two young girls; one, the daughter of wealthy parents, surrounded by everything that love and money can give her; the other, motherless and left to the care of a brutal stepfather. The author has followed the fortunes of these two girls from their childhood, and has woven a strong and human series of events about their lives. Genevieve Tobin, as Mary Boyd, is a splendid selection for the part. She has youth, beauty and real dramatic ability. Dolores Roussie, the Kathleen Pearson, fits the character to perfection. Other important members of the cast are Lolita Robertson, Frank Wunderlich, Jack Richardson, Maude Hill and J. D. Walsh. "Souls in Bondage" is a Sanford Special. It is a picture with an appeal that reaches almost to universal following. It is based upon an ideal that this moment is pulsing around the world. "The Power of Faith" whether it be by the teachings of the creed of any church, the principle of right thinking or the bowing of the head and the bending of the knee of the savage in the wilderness. In depicting this picture, its creators have reached to heights of effect which place it in its own class, alone among many other photoplays dealing with similar themes. Its high-powered cast includes Pat O'Malley, Cleo Madison, Otto Lederer, Frank Hayes, Genevieve Tobin, Peter Howard, Eugenia Gilbert and Leo Arligue—truly an all-star aggregation. Is your soul in bondage?

These two films form the nucleus of a real evening's entertainment. Re-member that with tomorrow's performance the prices of all seats at this popular playhouse will be reduced by the amount of the war tax, which becomes inoperative by act of congress.

RIALTO THEATRE

Whom among your feminine acquaintances would you call an average woman? What is an average woman? How does she differ from any other type? All these questions are answered in the screen version of Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story, "The Average Woman," which opens at the Rialto Thursday.

It is said that the average woman will powder her nose in public; is afraid of mice; has the right to change her mind as often as she changes; will always buy anything that's marked down; and ever so many things. But "The Average Woman" in this picture will hand you a surprise.

The cast in this film play includes Harrison Ford, Pauline Garçon and David Powell.

The added feature on the program presents the famous western favorite, Jack Hoxie, in "The Desert Bridegroom," an unusual picture of the west with Hoxie in a typical Hoxie role. This eighth round of "Fighting Blood" and a Fox News are included in the program.

In accordance with the new tax law enacted by congress at the last session, the Rialto management announces that they are eliminating the two odd pennies from the evening prices. On and after July 3, the prices will be as follows: matinees, all seats for everybody, 10c; evenings, adults, 20 cents and children, 10 cents. In fact, children will be admitted to any performance, Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays for 10 cents.

FELT AND LEATHER

Felt and leather are being combined in millinery, crowns of felt being joined to leather brims, or entire effects of felt showing the leather beneath are popular.

TIGER WOMAN WITH SELLS-FLOTO

When Jack Dempsey revisited Sells-Floto circus last (he was featured with the show for seven weeks after he won the championship in 1919) he slipped into the life of the troupe with ease, even occupying his old stateroom on Manager Zack Turner's private car. But it remained for Zona Zarros, young woman trainer of Royal Bengal tigers, to show him something different from the old days.

Zona, who will be seen battling hand to hand with 13 striped killers, when Sells-Floto comes to the Fair Grounds, Lowell, July 7, picked the heavy-weight champion from the ground and tossed him astride her shoulders without hardly any effort. "I wrestle 400-pound tigers all day, so why should I not handle a 190-pound fighter, even if he is the world's champion?" she said. The picture shows that Jack enjoyed the experience. Dempsey is a favorite with the 11 hundred people with Sells-Floto, and he is still considered a big top trouper by all of them.

LOWELL EAGLES HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Lowell Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, met last night in regular business session in Eagles hall, Harrington building, with Worthy President Thomas Quinn in the chair. A committee was named to arrange for a testimonial to Grand Trustee Thomas R. Murphy, who retires from office in August. The members voted to attend a joint outing with the Lawrence, Haverhill and Derby, N. H. lodges in September. A large amount of routine business was transacted and at the close of the meeting, Brother Daniel H. Sullivan of Dorchester gave an interesting talk on the order.

Salary Increase for High School Band Instructor—
 Election of Teachers

John J. Giblin, high school band instructor, was voted a salary increase of $250 a year, making his total salary $1000, by the school committee last evening. The increase was brought about by a motion induced by Mr. Delaney and after Headmaster Harris of the high school, when asked for his opinion on the increase, had complimented Mr. Giblin highly. John Shields, janitor of the Bartlett school, was elected head janitor, subject to the approval of the civil service commission, the vote being four in favor, two opposed and one not voting.

The meeting was called for the purpose of electing teachers and, after the routine elections had been held, Miss Bawlia Lawler was chosen for the position in the physical training department of the high school left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Myrtle Rooney Mahoney. Five kindergarten teachers were also elected, this number being necessary owing to the resignation of three regular teachers, the refusal of one elected last year to serve, and the opening of an additional room in one of the larger schools.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock with all members present.
 On recommendation of Supt. Molloy, Miss Helen King was elected teacher of cooking in the playground schools. Mr. Delaney moved that Mrs. Josephine Y. Grant, Paul Sullivan and Miss Katherine V. Hennessey be included in the list of teachers elected for the third time. His motion carried, only Mr. Cameron voting in the negative.

Supt. Molloy recommended the closing of the meeting.

FIFTH SESSION OF BALLOTING

No Indication of Break as Delegates Met Today to Begin 31st Ballot

McAdoo, Smith and Davis Hold Leading Positions—Ralston as Compromise

NEW YORK, July 2.—The democratic national convention today went into its fifth session of balloting for a presidential nominee with no definite indication of a break in the deadlock between William G. McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith.

Called at 10.30 a. m. eastern daylight time, to begin the 31st roll call, the delegates were still divided among 13 candidates, a record held for this stage of a national convention race.

McAdoo and Smith were, as before, in the lead, with John W. Davis well up in third place, out of the dark horse division, and Senator Ralston of Indiana, although sixth in the voting on the 30th ballot, a much diminished contender, James M. Cox of Ohio retained fourth place, and Senator Underwood of Alabama held the fifth.

The managers of all the leading contenders continued to express confidence after the 30th ballot, and kept on working into the early hours. What happened at their little conferences remained to be seen in today's events.

McAdoo Drops to 415 1/2

Of the leaders, McAdoo was the only one to show a declining tendency through the 15 ballots yesterday, while Davis displayed the greatest increase of strength. The McAdoo workers, however, predicted victory today, and David L. Rockwell, manager of the Californian's campaign, insisted "our lines are holding and we have assurances from our delegations that they will stick to the finish."

McAdoo, who received 421 votes on the 15th, dropped below his starting point last night on the 26th, when his count declined to 415 1/2, and ended the night with the same total.

Smith Increases Vote

Smith, meanwhile, maintained his advance, netting 18 votes on the day which was 83 more than he had in the beginning, and George Brennan of Illinois, one of his leading supporters, while making a round of "calls" after midnight, predicted he would reach 400 during the early balloting today.

Davis Doubles Vote

The Davis gain represented another 100 per cent climb. Starting with 63 on the 16th ballot, he ended with 126 1/2, as compared with the preceding day's progress from 31 to 61.

The Ralston talk gained much momentum when the Davis drift set William J. Bryan to work in active opposition to the West Virginian.

Friends of the Indiana senator, who wound up with 35 votes, a gain of two for the day, and Senator Ralston, were confident that Bryan's second choice inclination lay in their direction, despite his continued adherence to the McAdoo camp.

Three Favorite Sons Dropped

The Davis boosters, however, admitted no chagrin over the Bryan fight against their man.

Only three favorite sons were shaken completely out of the balloting and one—Senator Owen of Oklahoma—was added to the list. Governor Brown of New Hampshire, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi were dropped by their respective delegations on the 16th ballot, and Governor Bryan let go of the Nebraska vote on the 21st.

All of the Kansas votes, meanwhile, turned to McAdoo, but Gov. Jonathan M. Davis of that state continued to receive several undecided votes from Illinois and Pennsylvania delegates.

The McAdoo losses yesterday came chiefly from the switches of the Missouri and Oklahoma units, and his workers, although plainly concerned, said they had the best thing in the bag, which went respectively to Davis and Owen, would return to their column upon failing to find another candidate capable of commanding the necessary two-thirds majority.

New Deadlock Indicated

Despite rumblings of dissent in various McAdoo delegations last night, the late balloting found him holding firm to more than a third of the total votes, with the Smith forces yet to reach that point.

Second choice gossip increased unduly as balloting proceeded, but neither of the contending camps joined in, leaders of both campaigns insisting no reason existed for them even to think about throwing their support to dark horses. Davis and Gov. Ritchie of Maryland were discussed as the best thing in the bag, the Smith strength it should release delegates and Ralston sponsors claimed most of the second choice sentiment among the delegates favoring McAdoo, and there was evidence of Underwood strength yet to develop. This situation, in the opinion of some, indicated the possibility of a new deadlock in event of retirement by the two leaders.

Session Opens at 11 o'clock

Thomas Taggart, Senator Ralston's booster, said he expected to see McAdoo and Smith making gains all through the day session, with transfers of votes back and forth, but he expected no result from it.

"There will be upsurging and sparring but no decision," said Taggart.

Just as the clock moved up to 11,

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO BUY BAY STATE VOTE

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 2.—The democratic convention has developed a new type of politician—the political vamp. You will find her on the platform reviving the faded spirits of the tired politician, lending inspiration to the delegations on the floor, and "presiding" over the campaign headquarters of presidential candidates.

Which is as it should be. It is woman's place to brighten the corner wherever she is. But, rumor has it that some of the dear ladies are more zealous for candidate than party and that they have been whispering in the ears of certain delegates who have found in these women conventions too who are leaving for home "broke," that this need not be.

Yesterday, as the balloting was resumed this rumor became so persistent, that the writer went down on the floor to try to "nail" it.

He went straight to the Massachusetts women delegates, knowing that "home folks" will always tell the unvarnished truth.

"Has anybody been around this way inquiring how funds are holding out in the Massachusetts delegation?" he asked point blank.

One woman replied: "Yes, we have been 'approached' by McAdoo supporters—not only here, but before we left Boston. Assistance of all kinds was offered us. But we aren't asking for anything but honesty. No money can buy Massachusetts. We are not short of funds. But even if we were, it is Smith, regardless of cost."

"We have come with the avowed intention of nominating him, and he is the only man on our minds. No one else is of any interest."

Other women in the delegation substantiated the report.

As things look now, however, women may control the situation yet if the convention lasts much longer. Each day shows a falling off in the men delegates who have gone home and an increase in the women alternates who have slipped into their seats on the floor. In the endurance test the weaker sex wins. The men are the restless creatures who roam up and down the aisle, but the women sit still.

The Massachusetts women plan to hold a meeting in the Belmont before they leave New York to review the happenings of the convention and appoint a woman as leader in campaign work this summer.

CONVENTION NOTES

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dissatisfaction with the law enforcement planks in both the republican and democratic platforms, is expressed in a statement issued today by the United Committee for Dry Platforms, of which Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., is chairman.

"There is little choice between the enforcement resolutions adopted by the republican and democratic conventions," the statement said. "Neither one is what we asked for or can be satisfactory to the prohibition constituencies which the united committee represents. We advocated a plank explicitly committing the next administration to the maintenance and enforcement of the 15th amendment."

Mrs. Carroll Miller of Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania district delegate who received half a vote for the democratic presidential nomination from Massachusetts last night, yesterday's balloting, knows what she would do if she should become president.

"If I were president, I would do two things," said Mrs. Miller, who is the wife of a Pittsburgh consulting engineer and the mother of four sons. "I would have the United States enter the League of Nations and I would urge reduction in the tariff to all farmers."

agers had won over the one-seventh of a vote.

A McAdoo procession was quickly formed, and the McAdoo delegates, who were around the hall, hearing state standards, the air resounding with the familiar "Wah-Hoo" and "Hoop-lah" of the McAdoo warriors.

While the procession was passing Missouri was trying to poll and make up a decision.

McAdoo Demonstration

An outsider parading grabbed the Missouri standard and raised it high with the McAdoo paraders. It came down in a flash with some Davis men on the other end and the volunteer standard bearer narrowly missed a bloody nose.

When the demonstration quieted down, Missouri passed to have more time in making up a poll.

The Mississippians were prepared. It was said, to stay with McAdoo for five ballots and see what strength he can develop. Then they planned to look elsewhere for a winner if McAdoo failed to move up.

New Hampshire took away a full vote from Walsh of Montana, and divided it between Smith and McAdoo.

Oklahoma Returns to McAdoo

Oklahoma flopped back to McAdoo on this ballot, after having made a short excursion on the previous ballot with Senator Owen. That brought out a new McAdoo demonstration and some new signs went up. They read: "McAdoo forever."

Michigan Shifts

On the 35th, Michigan left Ferris again and divided this way: McAdoo, 14 1/2; Smith, 12 1/2; Ralston, 2; Cox, 1.

camp was brief. It lasted just one ballot. After flopping to McAdoo on the 34th ballot, Oklahoma on the 35th ballot flopped back to Senator Owen.

One Vote For Gerard

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, got one vote from So. Dakota, which had been going to Chairman Walsh.

Vote For Doherty

New Hampshire transferred half a vote from McAdoo to Smith. This was the first change in the voting on the 36th ballot.

E. L. Doherty, the California operator, was given one vote in North Dakota, which was taken from Gov. Smith.

The Doherty vote was cast by E. J. Hughes of Dickinson, an undertaker, who explained that he did it for fun.

GOV. BROWN WAS BIG LEAGUE BALLPLAYER

BY MAURICE HENDLE
N.E.A. Service Writer

NEW YORK, July 2.—Few candidates mentioned for the democratic presidential nomination, have the romantic color that surrounds Governor Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire.

Not until the fifth day of the convention was the name of Brown mentioned seriously. Then suddenly while per a bugle to be heard, and those on the hustler, hurried about to learn more about him.

"Who is Brown?" they asked.

"Oh, one of the Brown boys," a facetious person would reply. For although governor of his state, he was comparatively unknown outside of his own section.

Gov. Brown's career has been unusual. Born of poor parents in Dover, N. H., at the foot of the White Mountains, he worked in spare hours in a drug store and took his early education piece-meal. His education, obtained under difficulties, was complete. He is a graduate of Dartmouth.

As a youth he displayed ability as a ball player. He played on caught. Once his home town—he lived in Somersworth then, as he does now—played a neighboring town. The other team hired big leaguers, but Brown "stood them on their heads" and won. He became the idol of the fans.

Meanwhile he studied law. The Boston National League team heard of Brown's prowess and signed him. He played with them for a while, and then joined Providence and later Jersey City. He continued his studies and when he passed the bar examination, he quit baseball professionally for good.

He has been elected mayor of his town 10 times and when he went into the gubernatorial race he did so under a natural handicap. The state had been elected governor since 1872 in a two-party fight. In 1913 the republican ticket was split and a democrat walked in.

In 1922 he carried the state by 7000 votes.

At that time the state debt was nearly $900,000. In the first year he reduced it to $180,000 and the present fiscal year shows the debt entirely wiped out.

Governor Brown is a bachelor. His father and mother are alive. All live in Somersworth.

There never has been a Smith or Brown or Jones chosen for presidential honors. These three family names control a large bloc of votes and they are expected to rally around a man bearing the family name. Think of that!

Brown is known as a sphinx.

What a campaign! "Silent Cal" vs. "Fred the Silent One!"

MEETING OF CLEANER CITY COMMITTEE

A meeting of the Cleaner City committee was held last night in Liberty hall. The speaker of the evening was Mr. H. S. R. McCurdy, a surveyor of public highways of Manchester, N. H. Yesterday's meeting took the place of the regular Monday meeting of the committee.

Chairman P. F. Sullivan called the meeting to order at 8.10 and in a few words outlined the aims and ambitions of the committee. He said that the Cleaner City committee was originally appointed by the Lowell Planning board and consisted of ten members. Later the number was increased to a hundred members. Mr. Sullivan stated that he and his associates had never been treated with the greatest kindness and courtesy in all their dealings with the city officials, however, as he said, "that's all we got." Chairman Sullivan said that in an area of 13.4 sq. miles Lowell has 147 miles of accepted streets of which there are 78 miles of improved surface. The present plan of the city is to keep these streets clean. For this reason Mr. H. S. R. McCurdy, C.E., had come to Lowell to assist in the work of the committee as far as he was able.

Mr. McCurdy's discourse was entirely informal. He told his audience that a few years ago the state legislature had abolished the municipal departments. In Manchester and established the present Bureau of Public Highways, with the surveyor as chairman. This bureau had complete control of all public works with the exception of the water department, which is self supporting. The mayor and aldermen have the same status as any private citizen when desiring any improvement or changes in the city. Each request is acted upon in its turn, and if the surveyor and his associates believe that recommendation is unnecessary it is ignored, even though the mayor is the petitioner.

Mr. McCurdy stated that no streets are neglected. Even in the poorer sections of the city the cleaners worked at regular intervals. In fact particular care is taken in those localities where the children are forced to play on the streets for lack of yards or parks, to keep the streets clear of all dust and debris.

The city of Manchester does all its own asphalt paving, and at all times has patrols on the streets watching for the first traces of a hole. As soon as one is noticed it is immediately patched to prevent its spreading. All garbage collection is done by contract the city keeping but one man to answer complaints.

"There are many men in Manchester," said the speaker, "who are now swinging a pick who formerly had a chauffeur and a car. Now every superintendent drives himself, and if he doesn't like it we drop him. There is no civil service in Manchester. I have no chauffeur and neither has any one else. We run our city on purely a business basis."

At the end of his talk Mr. McCurdy answered all questions. Here he revealed the difference in wage scale between Lowell and Manchester. Lowell pays its laborers a minimum of 65 cents an hour, while Manchester pays from 45 to 50 cents an hour. The maximum is 60 cents.

At the close of the meeting the committee tendered Mr. McCurdy a rising vote of thanks.

The meeting adjourned at 6.25.

possibility that the Cherry & Webb clerk also will join the party. This special train will leave the Middlesex depot at 8:30 a. m. and on the return trip will leave the North station, Boston, at 9:30 p. m. If the Cherry & Webb clerk is included with the other three stores, the entire party will number approximately 600 men and women.

At Nantasket the party will break up into four separate groups, each to conduct its outing according to individual store and committee plans and desires. For instance, the Gagnon employees will have dinner at the Nantasket house, while the Pollard and Ben Marche clerks will dine at the Palm Gardens. The plans of Cherry & Webb's have not been fully completed as to details.

The special committee in charge of train arrangements and transportation between Boston and Nantasket includes James Saunders of the Gagnon Co., William Tucker of the Pollard company and John Foley of the Ben Marche.

Clerks of the Chalfont company to the number of about 65 and employees of Filders' Boston Ladies' Outfitters, totalling nearly 100, will spend the day at Hampton beach. In each instance the round trip will be made in gaily decorated automobile trucks, leaving the city shortly after 8 a. m. and returning at the convenience of the picnickers in the evening.

At all the stores officers of the respective mutual benefit associations comprise committees in charge of the outings, aided by sub-committees on sports, games and general activities. It was announced at the Chalfont Co. that the following officers of the Mutual Benefit association have outing plans in charge: Arthur Hiler, former president; Marion Shattuck, vice president; Louis Cote, treasurer; Margaret Cutter, recording secretary; Henry Chaput, secretary.

The Ben Marche committee includes: John Foley, president; P. L. Dugal, vice president; Margaret Curley, treasurer; Jeanne Giroux, secretary.

The Gagnon Co. plans are in the hands of James Saunders and Miss Rose Russell.

William Hennessy is in general charge of the Filders store outing.

In New York

NEW YORK, July 2.—Despite its enormity, New York is one of the easiest cities in which to find one's way about.

William Keith Saunders, 13-year-old schoolboy of Elizabeth City, N.C., recently came to New York alone.

It was the first time he ever had been in any large city. He made his way to all the interesting points without any aid—except the occasional questioning of a police officer.

After all, New York is but a small island. Rapid transportation is up-town and downtown—north and south. The streets are easily mastered, cross-town lanes being designated numerically.

Fifth avenue is the key street. It divides the east from the west. No matter where you are, if you do get lost and are too timid to ask questions, you can hop into a taxi, to be found in even most remote sections, and ride to some point familiar to you.

Compared with other large cities, New York offers little difficulty in navigation to the total stranger. Washington and Indianapolis are difficult to master. Chicago is impossible. Los Angeles is a problem in mid-town because of its heavy traffic, both pedestrian and vehicular. Detroit is tricky.

Little Bill Saunders didn't find New York any more awe-inspiring than the familiar streets of his Elizabeth City. The only thing that worried him, he related, was the traffic.

But under the rigid police supervision in New York traffic probably is less dangerous—providing you wait for signals—than in Elizabeth City.

The subway is the solution to New York's ease and speed in travel. But most visitors are reluctant to go beneath the earth's surface to do their traveling. They depend on slower taxicabs and surface cars.

In the summertime New York fights to ride atop the Fifth Avenue busses.

They afford a vantage point unequalled for a tour of the aristocratic avenue.

During the rush hours it is impossible to maneuver into a seat. It is the only transportation in New York where you really get a seat for your dime. They accept no standing passengers.

The other evening I rode down to Washington Square. Fully 200 people, many of them youthful lovers, were lined up ready to take their turn in a ride along the avenue and Riverside Drive.

But the bus is a nuisance in the height of the traffic rush. They are large and although handled with dexterity by expert drivers, seem always to be in the way of all other cars.

CHELMSFORD PLANS BIG JULY 4 CELEBRATION

Chelmsford will celebrate the Fourth in a manner that will not soon be forgotten by its residents. A big parade, a midway, a sports program and a fireworks display are planned and large committees of citizens from the various sections of the town are working day and night to make their part in the various events as big and colorful as possible.

In connection with the parade, which is to be one of the main features of the celebration, Chief Marshal Garfield A. Davis issued the following orders:

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 1
All participants will be in their respective places in ample time so that the parade may start promptly at 9.30 a. m., daylight saving time.

Each division will be under the direct supervision of the members of the general committee from that section of town represented assisted by aids previously selected.

As soon as possible after each division is in its proper formation members of the committee and aids will report to chief marshal at junction of Worthen street and Westford road.

Every indication is to the effect that the parade will be over a mile and a half long. The Centre is preparing a large number of floats and there are rumors that some unique "horribles" are being made ready as a surprise.

The Westfordians reported that a canvass of every house had been made to secure funds for expenses of parade features, and that a good sum had been realized.

East Chelmsford citizens held a meeting last night and the spirit was most enthusiastic. They will be well represented in their own division as well as in the commercial section.

South Chelmsford reported that the turnout of that section will be large and noteworthy.

North Chelmsford will have several floats and decorated automobiles in line as well as a number of representative business men serving as aids to the chief marshal.

West Chelmsford, which was not represented in last year's parade, will have a good number of features ready this year.

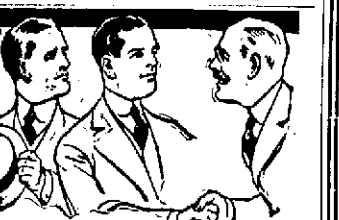

The judges for the prizes will be announced tomorrow. They will be well known Lowell men, who may be depended upon to make a fair and just award.

The committee on prizes has allotted the more than 10 prizes to the various classes, and now awaits the judges' decision as to who shall be the winners.

There will be at least four bands in the parade.

The fire department will be represented by a similar number of pieces of apparatus, as well as a special float. It was deemed inadvisable for the complete department to appear in the parade because of the resultant possibility of delay should there be an alarm of fire.

While most of the provisions of the new federal tax act became a law with the signature of President Coolidge on June 23, and went into effect immediately or were retroactive, as in the case of federal income taxes, the section doing away with the telephone and telegraph message tax was expressly declared to be effective 30 days after the enactment of the law. This period expires at midnight tonight.

Skin trouble costs many a man his job

No matter how efficient a man may be, if he has an ugly skin-eruption, there are positions in which he cannot be tolerated. He may know that it is not in the least contagious, but other people are afraid, they avoid him, and he must make way for a man with a clear, healthy skin. Why run this risk, when

Federal Tax on Telephone Toll Messages Ends Tonight

UNDER the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1924, all telephone messages will be free from tax on and after midnight, July 2, 1924 (Eastern Standard Time). The taxes imposed under the previous law were as follows:

On a telephone toll message for which the charge was more than fourteen cents and not more than fifty cents..... 5 Cents

On a message for which the charge was more than fifty cents..... 10 Cents

These taxes were highest, in proportion to the charge for service, for toll messages over moderate distances, the tax in some cases amounting to one-third of the toll charge.

We have anticipated the increased use of toll facilities that will follow the removal of these taxes and have taken necessary steps to prepare for it.

BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY IN PICTURE PRODUCTION

BY JACK JUNGMEYER,
N.E.A. Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, July 2.—The battle of east and west is still waging in motion pictures.

Film folk are always ready to discuss it. Will the bulk of pictures be made in New York or in Los Angeles?

Will Hays, in his official pronouncements, has been in the habit of referring to Hollywood as the center of 90 per cent. of American film production.

Last December there was a drop of 20 per cent. in Hollywood production activity, and although there was a half-hearted tendency toward recovery in March and April, about the same number of companies (in the sense of separate producing units headed by a director) have been working ever since.

This decrease in western production doesn't necessarily mean that the east has gained in the same proportion. However, it is apparent that the east has not lost any units, as the west has.

The proportion of production in the west is now 75 per cent. Actual checkup for the second week in June showed 73 pictures in production on the west coast, to 23 in the east.

First National has three production units of its own at the United Studio in Hollywood. Richard A. Rowland of First National has always favored eastern production. He announces that these three units will be called to New York.

In the Famous Players-Lasky organization a majority of the companies have always worked in the Hollywood studio. Jesse Lasky, vice president, has favored western production, while Adolph Zukor, president, argues for the east.

Probably 90 per cent. of the firm's pictures were made in Hollywood last year. This year the proportion will probably be 10 per cent. The second week in June there were five pictures being made in Hollywood and four in the Long Island Lasky studio.

"Peter Pan" was originally scheduled for production in Hollywood. The understanding now is that it will be made on Long Island.

Another producing company to desert Hollywood for New York is the Associated Pictorial, starring Barbara La Marr. She is now at the Biograph studio, New York, to appear in "Sandra."

It is not probable that southern California will ever entirely lose the movie industry. In fact, the element climate and the variety of natural scenery, together with the vast financial investment tied up in studio property make absolute desertion of the southland impossible.

But—it will probably never have 80 per cent. of production again. If it maintains the present proportion of 75 per cent. it will be grounds for congratulation.

POLICE SURPRISE BOYS AT CRAP GAME

A group of boys, aged from 8 to 13 years, was sadly surprised this morning while "shooting crap" in the alley in the rear of the Fairburn building when three stalwart defenders of the law swooped down on them and demanded an accounting.

The officers were Edward Flanagan, John Sayers and Harry Moroney, the two latter of the traffic division. Owing to the tender years and the many tears of the culprits, no arrests were made but the boys' names were taken and they were warned of the consequences if caught again.

LOANS OF $76,637,515 TO U. S. FARMERS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The federal intermediate credit banks have made loans aggregating $76,637,515 to the farmers of the country, in the slightly less than one year since the new credit system was organized. It was announced today by the federal farm loan board at the conclusion of the semi-annual conference of the board and officials of farm loan and intermediate credit banks.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM SERIOUS INJURY

Armand Perrault, of Third avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury early last evening when he fell from a window in the third floor of the Elks' building in Middle street to the sidewalk. His fall was broken by planking which was being raised to the third floor window and it is believed his injuries consist of a fractured elbow and numerous bruises about the body.

The injured man is the son of Victor H. Perrault, contractor in charge of remodeling the Elks' building, and was working at a window on the third floor of the building unloading lumber which was being raised on an out-rigger from the street level. While waiting for a load to come up to the window at about 7.15 o'clock, he lost his balance and plunged towards the street, striking a load of lumber which was being raised and then crashing to the sidewalk.

He was taken to the Lowell General hospital where his condition is reported today as not serious and he is resting comfortably.

UNVEIL MEMORIAL TO EX-PRES. ROOSEVELT

MANDAN, N. D., July 2.—Many friends and members of the family of the late Theodore Roosevelt were here today for the unveiling of a memorial to the former president.

Elaborate exercises are planned to precede the actual unveiling of the statue which shows Roosevelt as a rough rider. A parade of former ranch acquaintances, representatives of the American Legion, G. A. R., and his old Rough Rider Regiment, was a feature of the ceremonies.

Reading of a message from President Coolidge is to precede the dedicatory address.

Donovan and Chief Edward F. Saunders, today expressed the sincere thanks and the thanks and deep appreciation of Mrs. Cunningham for the splendid public response to the fund, all of which came about without a word of personal solicitation other than a general invitation of the local newspapers. The fund grew to proportions much larger than any member of the committee dared predict and included subscriptions from every component part of the citizen-

VANDAL PICNICERS

A good many Tom, Dick and Harrys, usually with feminine party guests and frequently a rollicking party of joyous young folks of both sexes, bent solely upon having one grand outdoor outing via the automobile transportation route, are keeping up the obnoxious practice of littering up many beautiful country roadsides with picnicking refuse of the most amazing varieties.

Complaints were voluminous from many rural district community land owners last year and in years before that, and they are coming in again from both municipal and town authorities and from owners of real estate located close to the important state highway transportation lines.

Littering of roadside parking places by motor picnicking parties has been an abuse especially prevalent on Sundays and holidays. It has of late become more pronounced and disagreeable in sections where there are attractions of exceptional scenic interest.

The situation is not one that can be handled satisfactorily by drastic measures, according to Commissioner William F. Williams of the state department of public works and his associates in the highway division. The department has control of the state thoroughfares, of course, but has no department police force to patrol the roads and order motorists to collect the debris they throw around and leave after their Sunday picnic trips. The small state constabulary patrol force could not be expected to cover every roadside camping spot in such a campaign, having much other work to do that calls for more important police supervision.

Many attractive halting places along country roads in Middlesex county, for instance, formerly available for picnic parties, are now posted or fenced off with wire because the friendly land owners were indecently imposed upon by itinerant mobs of men, women and children, ignorant of all qualities of decency and cleanliness and with no regard for the owners or property where they revelled in Sunday outing "kill-care" fashion. Owners of land naturally resent having their properties littered up with old newspapers, boxes, bottles, food odds and ends and made unsanitary and unsightly as well. There are dangers, too, at certain seasons of the year, from confagurations caused by abandoned campfires, lighted cigar stubs and cigarettes. More than 100 serious grass and woodlot fires were started last year alone through carelessly thrown lighted stubs of tobacco "smokes."

The town of Bourne is one of the first rural communities in the state to declare war on picnickers who scatter obnoxious litter. On highways running through that town today are posted conspicuously in many points notices containing the following warning, that all who motor along Bourne highways may read and digest:—

"The selection of Bourne has declared war on those who picnic in the town's public parks and near the highways, and depart without the formality of clearing away newspapers, tin cans, pickle bottles, food fragments and miscellaneous litter. Police officers have been instructed to summon to court anyone violating the above."

GROWTH OF CRIME

The long term grand jurors for Suffolk county have just issued a most remarkable and startling public statement. The gentlemen, whose terms expired June 30, deplore the increased number of social crimes they had to deal with. They emphasize the fact that many of the major crimes of today are committed by young men between 21 and 25 years of age. The legislature when requested, does not always enact more drastic laws dealing with stockbrokers' transactions, and this, too, is criticized by the grand jurors.

In this rather unusual letter, the jurors caution parents not to concern themselves more with reference to the general conduct of their children, particularly girls, as a means of checking the growing evils.

Nearly 500 criminal cases were presented to the Suffolk grand jury during the session just closed, according to Foreman Samuel Bernhardt. These were handled between Jan. 1 and June 30. Of this number, there were 674 indictments and 35 no-bills. With reference to the increase of social crimes, the grand jurors state that they cannot say "whether it is due to new economic conditions, to improper environment or unfortunate home surroundings."

It is urged that civic uplift societies, parent-teacher organizations of the different schools and religious organizations of the respective parts of the community take more active parts in stamping out lawlessness among the younger elements of the community. The grand jurors closed their unasked-for statement by declaring:—

"There was never more need to combat this apparently increasing criminal tendency than now, and the campaign should be taken up more vigorously with everything a community can use to combat it. We believe that irrespective of race, creed and color, there was never such a need of a greater appreciation of religion in the community as there is today."

NAMING THE FAVORITE

The democratic party, since the year 1832, has nominated or renominated six of its presidential candidates by acclamation in convention.

Andrew Jackson was the first, receiving the vote of every delegate assembled at that memorable convention held in Baltimore. Then came Martin Van Buren of the aristocratic field, but loyal party man, who in 1840, also, at Baltimore, was called unanimously to take up the presidential candidate's reins and move forward with support in abundance promised.

The acclamation principle was not adhered to after that by delegates to democratic conventions until 1850, when Winfield Hancock was the unanimous choice after the second ballot. Grover Cleveland was nominated on the second ballot in 1884, at Chicago, and four years later by acclamation for re-nomination. Upon his third try, he was nominated on the first ballot at Chicago. In the year 1910, Woodrow Wilson was renominated by acclamation at the famous St. Louis convention—the year preceding the outbreak of the World war.

Perhaps Stephen A. Douglas holds the record for greatest number of ballots before convention choice. In the year 1860, in Charleston, he led on the 57th ballot and the convention then adjourned to Baltimore, where he was chosen on the second ballot taken there. In 1912, it took 46 ballots to make Woodrow Wilson the nominee in the first presidential campaign. Forty-four ballots were required to place James M. Cox in the field at San Francisco in 1920.

PRODUCTION EVILS

President William M. Wood's assumption that the present stagnation in the nation's textile industries, both cotton and woolen, cannot last much longer, is entirely justified. He might have added to that frank statement, that the law of supply and demand is still working, although a good many textile interests outside of the American Woolen company's circle, lost sight of this ruling force before the big slump.

Over-production is not the greatest evil that American textile manufacturers have had to contend with, although they are accused sometimes of producing in such vast quantities as to overload sales channels and choke the progress of goods "from the mills to consumer." The flood of textiles from foreign countries is today the first problem that must be settled before American cotton and woolen mills can turn back the tide and secure outlets for American-made goods.

Mr. Wood's proverbial optimism has immensely helped American textile prosperity backers before, always with encouraging notes that ring true. We believe this renewed optimism as expressed by the textile magnate in an exclusive interview in The Lowell Sun last Saturday, will inject a new degree of genuine hope and courage into all cloth manufacturing circles, just as it has in the past. For it has become pretty generally understood that William M. Wood knows whereof he speaks on matters of the textiles and incidentally thereto.

COOL HEADS NEEDED

A young Japanese has committed suicide as a protest against the American exclusion act. A body of Tokio students has "demonstrated" by breaking up an American dance. A boycott against American imports, largely against goods listed as luxuries, is in progress.

Such acts are the acts of hot-heads. The Japanese government, thus far, has kept cool with Coolidge. But, it is possible for the acts of hot-heads to bring on war, no matter how cool of head and heart, and America has hot-heads of her own.

Should the continued acts of hot-heads of Japan arouse anything like the anti-Jap sentiment prevailing in our Pacific coast states 10 years ago, there's no telling where the matter would end. Unfortunately, but undeniably, there are vicious elements on the Pacific coast that would take devilish pleasure in acts that might provoke war, at any time. Such elements are chronically opposed to peace, work and contentment and they should be kept under surveillance.

The great mass of cool people will keep cool with Coolidge on the Jap matter but there are a comparative few who are reckless enough to start anything.

Considering the magnitude of the tasks assigned and those in the offing to be tackled before the end of the season, Lowell's street department performs deserve all credit for excellent performance thus far in many directions. The best part of the 1924 showing, both on paper and in the physical aspects of the work accomplished, is that more wisdom is being shown this year in carrying through important street construction and re-arranging contractors without serious delays, with the exception of an early stumbling when road-repairing material, imperatively required, was delayed in arrival.

You don't hear so much about "the predatory interests" nowadays. Some of the families in stellar position in former presidential campaigns appear to have withdrawn temporarily with in the tent, although some still have the wireless working in preparation for the November finale.

The latest dangerous-crossing placards in several New England communities where railroads still retain grade-crossings, read: "Cross Cautiously." Did that come from the college man in the big chief's office, or the caboose end of the rail?

Lowell's quota of young men destined for the citizens' military training camp at Devens, was filled far in advance of many other New England cities in the recent lively enlistment campaign. It is a record to be proud of, for there was no such interest exhibited by Lowell youth last year or the year before, when the equally great some comment in other sections of New England.

The farmer-labor progressive party does not even appear to be able to "bore from within," according to customary precedent. Which makes it look ominous for this political con- gregation's chances in the presidential balloting to come.

Time and Place

Clarence—What sort of a girl is Louise? Jack—The kind of a girl that dances in a man's embrace all evening and then licks him for putting his arm around her on the way home.—Detroit News.

Modest

"Is that all the work you can do in one day?" asked Sam, disdaining employer. "Well, boss," replied Sam. "I s'pose I could do mo', but I never was much of a hand for showin' off."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Waiter's Tip

They had passed some happy weeks in California. The sunshine was brilliant and the hotel fare was good. On the last day the waiter laid the table decorated with flowers. "A pretty touch of sentiment," commented Mr. "More likely 'good business,'" declared Mr. "Have you noticed what these flowers are?" asked the observant pa. "Forget-me-nots."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Plunks and Plunks

After listening to the boarder across the hall strum the banjo monotonously for an hour, Mr. Hark Brown stepped over and asked the performer where he learned to play. "I have been taking a course of instructions by mail," was the reply. "You only seem to know a few chords." "Yes, but when I get some more money to send the mail I'll know more. I sent him 10 plunks, and he taught me 10 plunks."

Mean Man's Tip

A mean man had a good meal at a restaurant and then, when he had finished, dropped a half dollar on the floor. "Waiter," he said, as he held his bill. "I just dropped two half dollars. Flud them for me will you?" The waiter disappeared under the table and in a short time emerged very red in the face. "I've found one of them, sir," he said. "Thanks," said the man as he pocketed the coin and rose. "When you find the other keep it for yourself—tip, you know."

Neptune With Him

Two nekkidities, not thoroughly accustomed to ocean bathing, were engaged in a "water fight" off a Florida beach one windy afternoon. The fight consisted of desperate attempts on the part of each combatant to break deep in water, to dash more of the ocean in his opponent's face than he himself was getting. They did not notice the huge wave which rolled slowly up to them. Hired the little fellow nearest to the beach clean off his feet, and set him gently in the back water. Considerably surprised, the nekkidities rose to the surface, dripping and spluttering, and turned to his companion, an awed expression on his face. "Boy," he said, breathlessly, "boy, you got me licked."—Harper's Magazine.

According to Hoyle

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them."

Hiram needed a pair of shoes, so he entered the store, and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Well, give me two pair."

"What size?"

"Number nine."

When the clerk returned with the shoes, Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him.

"Two pairs of shoes at three dollars is six dollars."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?"

"Well, don't three of a kind take two pair?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Judge.

Always When There is Music

Always when there is music, it is you

Who come between me and the sound of strings.

The cloudy portals part to let you through.

Troubled and strange with long remembered.

Your nearness gathers ghostwise down the room.

And through the pleading violins they play.

There drifts the dim and delicate perfume

That once was you, come dreamily astray.

Behind what thin and shadowy doors you wait

That subtle things as these should set you free?

When all my need, like armies at a gate,

Would storm in vain to bring you back to me?

When in this hush of strings you draw more near

Than any sound of music that I hear.

—DAVID MORTON.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I am told that plans are being tentatively considered for a joint outing of Dr. Drullette assembly and Bishop Delany assembly. Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, some time this month or early next month. Several places are being considered, among them Duck Point at Manchester-by-the-Sea, St. John's Prep school grounds and Salem Willows. As yet, nothing definite has come out. Among those most enthusiastic for an outing is Rev. W. George Mullin, a member of Fr. Drullette assembly, and formerly a chaplain and great K. of C. worker here. It plans now talked of, nature, the outing will be for both assemblies rank among the leaders in this part of New England.

The Fourth of July invariably awakens fond memories of days gone by, when young America, forsooth, gave vent to its patriotic feelings in a more noisy way than in recent years.

The day of the significant cannon crack or has gone, and "its well. Safe and sane seems to be the ruling idea and it is being religiously adhered to with a lesser number of accidents and fires.

But what seems to have gone most noticeably, gone the way of the cannon crack, the pistols and other species of the dangerous family of noise-producers, is the once-famed "horribles" parade with its many side-splitting features. I can recall the floods in their mythical antics, old Company Q from the days with their continental uniforms, the V.M.C.I. with its snappy outfit in a more or less dignified representation of some feature of the Declaration of Independence. It does seem as though the clubs and organizations had quite a time in those days. The last parade of the "horribles" if memory serves correctly, was

When noontime arrives and you step out to lunch it will generally turn out this way: What food you would dine on you haven't a hunch so you're shortly escorting a tray.

You travel along by a counter that's filled with the choicest of things; you're a slave to the call of your eye and your appetite's thrilled, though you can't just decide what you crave.

There are four kinds of meat and they all seem a treat and there's radishes, onions and lettuce. The potatoes are mashed and au gratin or hashed. Gee, it's funny how food dishes get us.

You hang up your hat and you take this and that till your tray is filled up to the brim. You stop to look twice at the things that are nice; oh, your appetite's surely in trim.

And then, when you're able, you hie to a table and feel that you're sitting in clover. You eat all you can, but say, where is the man who hasn't some foodstuffs left over?

It's always this way, at the noontime of day and it's true that you know you're a rummy. It just goes to show, we probably all know, that your eye can stand more than your tummy.

Members of the Lowell Knights of Columbus are delighted with the plans for the new home as pictured in last Saturday's Sun. Grand Knight Frank A. Groves and the committee in charge of the reconstruction process hope to be quartered in the new building about the first of next year. All modern conveniences will be at hand when the doors are reopened.

There is a possibility, I understand, of Bruce Douglas, city tennis champion, entering the second annual municipal tennis championship at Detroit, Mich., on Aug. 6. The big tournament is for the amateur championship of the United States, and should Douglas decide to enter, he would make a splendid showing. He captured the local city championship in 1923-24, while his sister, Queenie, led the girls of the city for the same two years.

Anticipating an unusually large congregation at the ordination ceremonies in St. Jean Baptiste church next Sunday, the clergy of that parish have decided to allow only those having tickets to enter. Very Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., stated today that arrangements have been made to seat as many as possible via the ticket system, and while he is sorry to disappoint the hundreds who would like to attend, it cannot be done satisfactorily. The ordination will take place at the solemn high mass at 10:30 o'clock with Edward Ducharme of Worcester the recipient of the high honor.

Lowell veteran firemen are following New England district muster news closely, although little of this news is produced with Lowell hand-tub attachments as of yore. It was informed by Brother Walker some time ago that Bath, Me., plans to hold a real old-time muster on the Fourth. I saw a news item yesterday in a Portland paper stating that 15 handtubs have thus far been entered in this Fine Tree state contest that should win both attendance and new barrels. The first handtub muster in Bath was conducted way back in 1845. The 1924 event will call all the first and second-class engines in Maine. The Rockland company, with tub "A. R. Haverest," made a trial paper shooting last week of 235 feet, 6 1/2 inches, unofficial. The Hancock of Brockton, world champions, would hardly beat that mark today, and when was employed on the Brockton Times I chalked down many a long-distance "first" for the old Hancock, whose headquarters were in a cubby house fire station in Brockton Heights near the store of one Hiram Ford, their kindly friend and coffee-shooter. The Hancock all, from "Bert" Willis up to "Cap'n" Ford, were the finest hand-tub fire house team in the New England prize-winning circuit that ever was or ever will be. And not a tight-wad in the bunch of champion firemen—not one.

LOVE'S OMNIPRESENCE

And you, my Love, as high as heaven above,
Yet should the thoughts of me your humble swain
Ascend to heaven, in honor of my Love?
Were I as high as heaven above the plain,
And you, my Love, as humble and as low,
As are the deepest bottoms of the main,
Wheresoe'er you were, with you my love should go.
Were you the earth, dear Love, and I the skies,
My love should shine on you like to the sun,
And look upon you with ten thousand eyes
Till heaven wax'd blind, and till the world were done.
Wheresoe'er I am, below, or else above you,
Wheresoe'er you are, my heart shall truly love you.

COMMUNITY CHURCH AT HAMPTON BEACH

HAMPTON BEACH, July 2.—General Rufus E. Graves, honorary chairman for the campaign to raise $25,000 for the Community church at Hampton beach today announced that he had notified the trustees of the church that the rent of the land on which the proposed building would be constructed would be free of all charges. This first contribution by Gen. Graves to the campaign added much enthusiasm to the work which is being done. The gift is equivalent to a $100 donation per year for the next 70 years, making the aggregate gift rising $7000.

Every shop window in Hampton today has posters advertising the campaign which opens on Sunday next and which will last for a full week. Never in the history of the beach has so much interest been displayed in a public movement as there has been in this campaign which will make possible a church home for the thousands of Protestant people who visit the beach annually.

On the handstands opposite the Casino, has been placed in position a large picture of the proposed church and a bulletin board keeps the beach informed as to the progress of the campaign.

CHECK DANCING AT THE COMMODORE

There will be check dancing tonight at the Commodore ballroom with Minner-Doyles team furnishing the music. The "night before" the Fourth will find the Commodore open from 8 p. m. until 4 a. m. Manager Roane announced that Minner-Doyles orchestra will play during the early part of the evening and will be relieved by "Mm" Hall, left's famous troupe later in the night. Situated on Thoncliffe street opposite the South common, a large crowd is expected after viewing the sight on the midway. If you have not seen the Commodore since its opening this will be an excellent opportunity to "look it over." Friday being Fourth of July there will be dancing in this hall both afternoon and evening, from 10 o'clock in the morning until midnight. For the holiday the prices remain the same, admission being 1 cent with 5 dance checks for 25 cents. Include a visit to the Commodore in your holiday program.

Councilors Resent Attempt To Change Regulations

ordinance just uncovered is designed to make the March ordinance conform with the Haverhill practice.

"This new plan is practically the same as the March ordinance," he said, "except that we do not call for bids. There is no attempt to 'railroad' anything here tonight but we are in a hurry to put it through. We are ready to go and are waiting for you to say the word."

McFadden Takes Issue

Councilor McFadden, chairman of the charities committee, was on his feet when Mr. Gallagher concluded. "The charity department is waiting for the word 'go,'" he said. "This council gave them the word last March and they haven't done anything about it yet. He talks about the small dealer. It is the poor we are to take first to heart—not the dealer."

"As chairman of the charity committee I was surprised to learn of the trips to Lawrence and Haverhill. I was not asked to make the trips. I would have liked to have gone along. There have been no complaints made to me as to the March ordinance."

C. J. O'Neill heard Cornelius J. O'Neill, given the privilege of the floor, said he hoped the council would favor the plan of permitting the superintendent to select the dealer in each individual case rather than have the purchasing agent advertise for bids and have every one in Lowell know that any certain dealer had the contract of supplying the poor.

Mr. McFadden said that the March ordinance was drawn by James C. Reilly, former assistant district attorney for Middlesex county, at the request of charitable societies, and that Mr. Reilly had said that under the ordinance no one dealer need be selected, but that it is with the province of the purchasing agent to call from dealers of all sections of the city for bids, if he desired, and award separate contracts in the various sections. This, he said, would be preferable to having the superintendent name any dealer and have the poor pay any price rather than a stated bid price.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he wished to give notice that he will continue to insist that the matter of fuel distribution remain undisturbed as to distribution system. At this point the discussion ended.

Other Business of Session

The council voted to rescind its action at the last meeting in permitting Joseph H. Maguire, former election commissioner, to conduct a lunch cart in Appleton street near Gorham street and to authorize the city clerk to refund to him the $50 fee paid. C. J. O'Neill, attorney for Mr. Maguire, said that his client would surrender his common victualer's license and desired to avoid any possibility of a public hearing. He would admit, he said, that the wagon as placed constituted an obstruction to traffic and would seek a location on private property.

Appropriation orders were passed covering the purchase of eight acres of land in Centralville, for playground purposes, from the Sixth B. Hall heirs and the expenditure of $18,000 for paving in Lawrence street.

Two objectors appeared at the public hearing on the petition of the Lowell Electric Light Co. for permission to locate a pole in Vernon street. Referred to Councilor Stearns. Opposition to a pole at 72 Swift street was also heard. Referred to Councilor Moriarty. Other petitions, meeting no objection, were referred to the board of public service.

Leave to withdraw was given on applications for pole locations in Mt. Hope and Abbott streets.

Honor Late Supt. Welch

On motion of Mr. Cosgrove it was voted that the city clerk be instructed to prepare appropriate resolutions of condolence on the death yesterday of Redmond Welch, former superintendent of police, and forward same to his family.

The petition for permission to erect a garage in Bellevue street, with entrance from Sheldon street, against which many protests were lodged, was referred to the city solicitor. Several recommendations of the fire chief relative to gasoline filling stations and garage locations were read and action deferred.

A letter from Police Superintendent Atkinson recommending favorable action on the retirement petition of Lindsey E. Ingalls, for 35 years a member of the force, was read and referred to the city solicitor, the usual course.

The recent legislative act providing authority to grant a $500 annuity to the widow of the late Capt. Edward J. P. Cunningham of the fire department, killed in the Associate building fire, was accepted.

BUTLERS DEFEAT EAST ENDS IN CITY TWI LEAGUE, 20 TO 14

Weird Exhibition of Baseball as Butlers Came From Behind to Swamp Centralville Team—East Ends in Comedy of Errors

CITY TWILIGHT LEAGUE STANDING

Pawtucket A. A.	5	0	1.000

Butlers	2	2	.500
Centralville D. Ends	1	3	.250

Marble Americans	1	4	.200

In a weird exhibition of baseball on the South common last evening, the Butlers defeated the Centralville East Ends by a score of 20 to 14, and went into third place in the City Twilight League standing. The game was farcical in many respects, both teams presenting a conglomeration of errors and mishaps that detracted from the interest.

It was crossed the plate with surprising frequency, at least one man counting in every frame. In the fifth, when the Butlers came to bat, a succession of hostilities because of darkness, the Butlers registered eleven times, while the East Ends pushed eight markers over in the second. In coming from behind and landing the verdict, the Butlers got 10 hits, Manager Billy Rogers, playing his first game at third base, leading in the attack with three timely smashes, one of them a double to left. Phil Payton started on the mound for the first time, but retired in the first inning with three timely smashes, one of them a double to left. The latter was credited with the victory. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME

Both teams played a listless brand of ball. But for the darkness, they might be going yet.

Bill Rogers scintillated with the wand. Two singles and a double is not a bad evening's work.

The East Ends were credited with 10 errors, which counted somewhat in the avalanche of Butler runs in the fifth.

Joe Bradbury did his usual waiting act and was passed frequently.

There will be a short session of league managers in Crescent rink this evening. Managers are urged to be present at 7 o'clock sharp.

The new schedule becomes effective the first Monday after the fourth with the Pawtucket playing the Bellevues.

MIL. LENGLEN RETIRES

Forced to Withdraw at Wimbledon Because of Illness—Richards Beaten

WIMBLEDON, England, July 2. (By the Associated Press.)—The Wimbledon lawn tennis championships today entered the closing stages after a day of sensational play, including the withdrawal of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, five-time champion of the world, because of illness, and the defeat of Vincent Richards, brilliant young American internationalist, by Jean Borotra of France.

Borotra's defeat of Richards was totally unexpected, as the young New Yorker had displayed sufficient strength to warrant the assumption that he would at least advance to the second round and probably carry off the honors of the tournament.

Miss Lenglen heart-broken. LONDON, July 2. (The Daily Express understands that) Suzanne Lenglen's withdrawal from the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships is due to enlargement of the liver, resulting from the strain of playing. "I am heart-broken about it," was the champion's comment to the newspaper's correspondent, just after she had learned of the doctor's ruling that she should cease play.

City, July 1, 1924.

Sparting Editor, Lowell Sun.
 Dear Sir—The North Ends, after winning four decisive victories, are going after big game next Sunday on the North common by playing the strong Centralville East Ends, a City Twilight team.

The North Ends are composed of such fellows as the Bernier brothers, Gaynon, Kluben, Marcolle, Demmitt, and other strong players, making them a strong combination.

Among their victims towards the city championship are the strong Kenwood Rogers, Appletons, C.Y.M.L. and Collinsville A.A.

Sunday's game is their first big test this season, but they are confident of the outcome.

Thanking you for your space and time, I remain yours,
 LEO LAMBERT, Mgr.

LOWELL FIREMEN PUT OUT NEWTONS, 13 TO 4

Newton fire department baseball stars came to Lowell yesterday full of bristling hopes and courage, bent upon whitewashing Lowell fire department's crackcrack diamond experts. It was a sad story. The local fire ladders simply smashed the old spheroid to all quarters of the South common, ran bases Hittchecochee Indians and bade the "Newts" a fond farewell at the end of a spectacular all-smothered ninth inning.

Nothing like it was ever seen before on the fallow reaches of the diamond where the slaughter occurred.

Heavy-stickers of the Lowell red-hat brigade did the trick, aided by non-errorless playing all the way through the base-running relay contest. Twenty safeties were chalked up by the merry locals from the on-a-silver-platter offerings of Fitzgerald and Eschbach, while Newton could only trade-mark six from Symonds.

Barley and Nickerson glistened at bat for the tamale locals, while Thomas was the fielding ace-high-and-you-the-win-the-game.

The tragedy in full—

New York Congressman Admires Bay State Spirit

The way the men from New England, and especially Massachusetts, boost their home States, and New England products, aroused the admiration of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention from other parts of the country. The New Englanders deserve a lot of credit for their loyalty," declared Congressman James J. Driscoll of Buffalo. "Among other things they insist on their own cigar, the Elcho, and by the way they talk about it one would think the Elcho was the only cigar in the world. It is certainly a wonderful smoke and they are well justified in feeling proud of it."—Adv.

MOREHOUSE BAKING CO.

STATEMENT BY BUICK MOTOR COMPANY

The mystery is out. Eight new body models on a chassis of 114½ wheel base, embodying a new six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine with a 3-inch bore and 4½-inch stroke, is the sensational announcement just made by the Buick Motor company. This is the good news that the automobile public has been eagerly waiting for, their interest previously aroused by advertisements predicting something new and sensational in automobile production efforts.

The Buick company announces that the new six-cylinder model is to be known as the "Standard Six." The body models will consist of a five-passenger, double-service sedan; a two-passenger roadster; a two-passenger, enclosed roadster with heater; a five-passenger touring; a five-passenger enclosed touring with heater; a two-passenger double-service coupe; a five-passenger sedan; a four-passenger coupe.

Probably the most striking features of the new models are the completely enclosed sedan and coupe on the open cars, and the low-pressure tires on all models. The cars with the enclosed tops will carry heaters. The tops and sides are so designed that they harmonize well with the distinctive body lines.

They are upholstered with leather, with special cushion springs effecting a high degree of motoring comfort. Other models are furnished with upholstery of durable cloth in pleasing colors. The engine is valve-in-head type with automatic lubrication throughout and with the cylinder head removable. The engine produces 50 horsepower. Many new devices are installed for lubrication purposes. The carburetor is the improved automatic float-feed type. Ignition is supplied by high tension jump spark system, the clutch is a multiple disc, dry plate, requiring but slight pressure to operate; control is by means of short spark and throttle levers in the center of steering wheel, friction retained.

The new transmission is the selective sliding gear type, three speeds forward and one reverse. The gears are special and heat treated. Other innovations are the service brakes, floating rear axle, by which all the weight of the car is taken on axle tubes and only driving torque is taken by axle shafts. Spiral bevel gears are fully adjustable.

The wheels are of artillery type with hub flanges. Tires are 31 by 4.55 inch, low pressure, on all models. The steering gear is of improved semi-

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 10

Flip watched his master for a few moments and began to whine. Plump, one of the very friendly members of the crew, stooped over and put his arm around Flip's neck. "Your master is all right," said Plump. "You just be quiet, old fellow." Flip licked the fat sailor's hand and lay down.

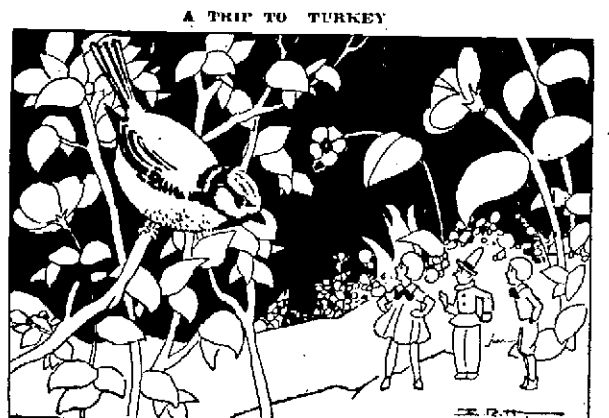

Then the sailors turned their attention to watching Jack climb up to where the sail ropes were caught. The climbing was not so hard for the first few feet as there were plenty of ropes wound around the base of the mast. But, as Jack went higher and higher, it became more difficult.

Suddenly, below him, Jack heard the sailors laughing. He stopped for a moment and looked down. Then one of the sailors shouted, "Why don't you use the rope ladder?" "Where is it?" asked Jack. "Why, just around on the other side of the mast," came the reply. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"All aboard for Turkey!" called Johnny Jump Up. "Turkey!" cried Nick, sitting up in bed suddenly. "Is it Thanksgiving time?" "Are you joking, Johnny?" asked Nancy, sitting up in her little bed, too. "Of course, I'm not joking," said Johnny Jump Up. "I'm not talking about the same kind of turkey that you are. I'm talking about a far country called Turkey. It's away across the sea and the Turks live there. Would you like to go?" "Oh, yes!" said the twins quickly. "Then scramble into your clothes, and here are the magic shoes," said Johnny. "And in about two shakes of a dicky bird's tail, the three tiny travelers were out in the magic garden, where a lilac bush grew. Sitting astride one of the blossoms was a little Turkish fairy, holding his head at them in a friendly greeting. "Hello, Nancy and Nick," he called. "I've brought you some tickets for your journey. The Fairy Queen sent me a radio message across the sea to bring you some tickets. That's why I'm here." "Oh, thank you!" said Nancy. "Is Turkey a nice place?" "Of course it is," said the tiny Turk.

"Tillies came from Turkey in the first place and the gardens are full of them. Just wait until you see what real tillies are!" "Well, well, well!" said a new voice. "Are you going to stand here all night talking. That's the way some people read their letters. They wonder and wonder what's inside—who it's from and all they get to do is to open it and find out. What's the use of talking when all you've got to do is to go and see for yourselves?" Everybody laughed, for it was only Tommy Timonke, the little bird, and his heart was kinder than his tongue. "We're coming, Tommy!" said Nick. "Here are the tickets," said the tiny Turk. So, after Tommy Timonke had punched them with his little sharp bill, the twins and Johnny Jump Up got on his back and away he flew. "Why, it's different from any country we have ever seen," said Nancy when they got to Turkey. "What queer shapes the houses are!" "They look like turnips upside down," said Nick. "This is the city that's so hard to spell," said Johnny Jump Up. "All the boys and girls in school miss it in spelling. It is called Con-stant-i-nople. It is a beautiful city, though, but very very old." The twins could see down into the gardens from where they sat. Many

LORAIN DIGS ITSELF OUT OF RUINS

LORAIN, Ohio, July 2.—(By the Associated Press) This city continued today to dig itself out of the ruins wrought by Saturday's tornado. Order and systematic relief having been established, considerable progress is being made in cleaning up the wreckage.

Only in residences fit for habitation, has there been any attempt to put things in order or to make repairs. Most repair work has been only of temporary nature. Hundreds of demolished residences have not yet been explored for dead.

Work of clearing the ruins of the State theatre, where authorities think there still may be a few bodies continued with the aid of steamshovels. The list of dead remained at 65 early today.

So great is the amount of personal property recovered from the ruins that the military today established "effects depots" throughout the affected area, where all property is to be taken and delivered to the owner, upon proper identification.

National officers of the Red Cross arriving yesterday, made a survey and completed organization for relief work. They were to meet today with Gov. Donahoe and the general state relief committee.

WEBB AND HIS DECEASED WIFE ACCUSED

NEW YORK, July 2.—Two actions have been filed in the county clerk's office, accusing Charles Webb and his deceased wife, Mrs. Gertrude E. Gorman Webb of having defrauded Mrs. Webb's mother of more than $500,000 and several pieces of real estate.

Mrs. Webb died at the Westchester-Biltmore country club last September under unusual circumstances, leaving her estate of more than $2,000,000 to her husband. After sensational charges had been made, Webb was cleared of all blame for his wife's death by a grand jury.

WILL SELL LOWELL JAIL AT PUBLIC AUCTION

The Middlesex county commissioners have reached a decision to sell the Lowell jail property in Thorndike street at public auction and have authorized Walter E. Guyette, local real estate dealer, to prepare all necessary plans and details and conduct the sale. No date for it has been set.

Decision to dispose of the property in this manner was reached only after repeated efforts at direct sale had been unsuccessful, the commissioners feeling that the jail buildings are distinctly in the "white elephant" class and see no likelihood of their use as a penal institution in the future.

The buildings in Thorndike street are of such construction as to limit their use, but Mr. Guyette feels there will be a number of bidders for the property when the sale comes and particularly refers to its possible adaptability as a storage plant, with the easy transformation of the residence into a private hospital.

In addition to the jail buildings there is a large tract of land extending down Thorndike street as far as Hale street and in the rear running back to the Boston and Maine track. The total area involved is 231,265 square feet and Mr. Guyette points out that there is room enough for 60 individual house lots. He will give the auction sale wide publicity and will place the date of sale far enough ahead to allow for all necessary preparations.

With the advent of prohibition and the transfer of most of the county's criminal business to East Cambridge the Lowell jail has not been of any use to the county.

COOLIDGE SEEKS FACTS ON GERMANY

WASHINGTON, July 2.—First hand information on conditions in Germany particularly as bearing on the situation with respect to the Dawes report, was understood to have been sought by President Coolidge in arranging a conference today with Alanson B. Houghton, American ambassador at Berlin. On arriving in New York yesterday Ambassador Houghton was quoted as saying he considered Germany had done everything asked of her under the Dawes plan and that he hoped she would accept it.

Mr. Houghton is said to have postponed a previously planned date of departure for the United States for several weeks in order that he might continue his observation of developments in Germany during that time. Interest of the administration in German conditions has been made clear by his repeated expressions of hope that the Dawes plan would be accepted as a starting point for a solution of the reparations problems.

TALK BY "BOB" QUINN

President of Red Sox Addresses Members of Holy
Name Society

"Bob" Quinn, popular president of the fighting Boston Red Sox of the American Baseball league, delivered an informal, but highly interesting, address before the members of St. Michael's Holy Name society in St. Michael's school hall last evening.

Coming here at the earnest solicitation of Rev. James F. Lynch, spiritual director of the Holy Name society, President Quinn was forced to leave his busy dock in Boston. He was given a spontaneous reception as Chairman James Mullen introduced him to the St. Michael's men as "the leader of the next American league champions."

Many humorous and interesting anecdotes of baseball as it was played when Mr. Quinn was in his prime captivated the audience for several minutes. He told of the many hardships encountered by the old pioneers in the national pastime, of his own fight against odds to place himself on a high pedestal in the baseball world, of the many cares and anxieties of a big league president, "There are more heartaches connected with baseball," he said, "than any other business."

During his successful regime as head of the Red Sox, Mr. Quinn said he has received numerous anonymous letters, signed by "A Fan," "A Red Sox Fan," etc., offering suggestions as to the best methods of improving his team and developing young players. It is all very easy for the fans to criticize, he added, but it's a different proposition when one has to go out and endeavor to do the right thing. Ball players are not easy to find, but as long as his team is in the pennant race, it will be popular, he said. Once it begins to "hit the skids," however, pandemonium will break loose in fandom and the result may be surmised.

In reference to popularity, the speaker said it was "all bunk." "They tell me I'm popular in Boston," were his words. "Yes, I may be popular now, but where will I be if my team hits a downward grade? Popularity is fleeting and should be ignored." To illustrate his text, Mr. Quinn recounted the experiences of two old ball-players, once prime favorites in every park they played. Something went wrong and they faded into oblivion almost overnight.

The speaker's old-time ball players, especially in the matter of transportation, were vividly described by the big league magnate. Instead of the great Pullman sleepers now demanded by the stars in travelling from one city to another, the stars of yesterday were content to ride in "bumpers," at that time considered a real luxury. The "bumpers" from town to town were manipulated by some of the players in most peculiar ways. He added, as off-times the club with which they were playing was unable to pay expenses and "went up." It was not uncommon to travel in freight-cars, he said.

Mr. Quinn, an enthusiastic Holy Name man, exhorted the members of St. Michael's branch to live up to the principles of the society at all times. He recalled a visit here during the recent mission when he was edited by the large membership and he urged the men to continue in their practice of devotion to the ideals of the organization. He was tendered a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of his talk.

Among the other entertainers last evening were James B. Coughlin, who rendered two pleasing recitations; James E. Donnelly, in songs and stories, and James Duddy, clog-dances. Rev. Thomas J. Heagney was present as an invited guest.

The affair was brought to a close about 10 o'clock after refreshments had been served.

FURTHER CUTS IN TAX BILL

Public Purse Will Heave Another Sigh of Relief at Midnight Tonight

Reductions in Nation's Tax
Bill Under Revenue Law
Become Effective

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The public purse will have another sigh of relief at midnight tonight, when further cuts in the nation's tax bill under the new revenue law become effective after the 30-day period stipulated from its enactment. The so-called nuisance taxes are abolished entirely while in the field of miscellaneous taxes generally, material reductions take effect.

Included among the old law assessments which are eliminated outright are those on telegraph and telephone messages and the stamp tax of two cents per hundred dollars on drafts, checks and promissory notes. The tax on theatre admissions of one cent for each ten cents charged, is changed to apply only on admissions in excess of 50 cents.

The five per cent tax on jewelry articles, including musical instruments so classed, will apply only on those exceeding $50 in value and on watches only of a value of $50.

Although the law levies a new tax of 5 per cent on automobile chassis and bodies and motorcycles and 3 per cent on truck or wagon chassis selling for more than $1000 and bodies selling for more than $200, it compensates in a measure by cutting in half the 5 per cent tax on automobile parts and accessories.

Another cut to become effective is that from two cents to one cent per hundred dollars in the stamp tax on sales of produce, boards of trade and similar trading marks.

Among articles freed entirely of the tax levied under the old law are: pleasure boats and canoes, candy, hunting and bowie knives, dark knives, daggers, sword canes, slittions, brass and metallic knuckles, smoking stands, liveries and liver boots and hats, hunting and shooting garments, riding habits, yachts and motor boats not designed for trade, fishing or national defence and X-ray films and plates.

RECOVER AMERICAN FLAG

U. S. Charge d'Affaires Informed Japanese Police
Have Found Flag

TOKIO, July 2. (By the Associated Press).—The police have informed Jefferson Caffery, the American charge d'affaires, that they have recovered the American flag, which an unidentified Japanese yesterday tore from the flag pole in the grounds of the American embassy.

The chief of police of Akasaka, the section of Tokio in which are situated the embassy grounds, where the embassy stood before the earthquake of Sept. 1, has resigned.

The opposition parties in the diet have announced that they will not use the flag incident politically to embarrass the government owing to the gravity of the affair.

Leading publicists, including those usually jingoistic, deplore the incident and denounce its stupidity.
